

Kissinger, Bride Honeymoon

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Acapulco's social set awaited word today on whether the newlywed Kissingers were open to invitations. But Washington's most fabled swinger appeared intent so far on keeping a veil of privacy around his honeymoon.

Some 60 vacationers lined the Las Brisas dock Sunday and applauded as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and the former Nancy Maginnes returned from a three-hour cruise around choppy Acapulco Bay in a speedboat called El Orate — The Lunatic.

Two boatloads of Secret Servicemen trailed El Orate around the bay, then packed into two cars to follow Kissinger's limousine back to banker Eustaquio Escandon's secluded villa overlooking the sea where the couple is staying.

"I'm sure there will be some parties or at least a dinner or two while they're here," said a leading Acapulco socialite wistfully. But he added that the Kissingers had accepted no invitations yet.

"Every man when he gets married is entitled to have some privacy," said a State Department spokesman.

Only a handful of persons knew in advance of Kissinger's wedding Saturday, among them former New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Mrs. Kissinger's employer.

The former Miss Maginnes, who at almost six feet is noticeably taller than Kissinger, is head of international studies for Rockefeller's Commission on Critical Choices. She and Kissinger met 10 years ago when she enrolled in his foreign policy seminar at Harvard, and the professor recommended his pupil to Rockefeller as a foreign policy aide.

Despite the 50-year-old secretary's well-publicized appearances with glamorous stars and starlets, Miss Maginnes, 39, has been his frequent companion for years, and a marriage was rumored for months.

Kissinger broke the news to Rockefeller Saturday morning ("By the way, Nancy and I are getting married.") and Rockefeller later announced the wedding to a meeting of midwest Republicans.

The official announcement came from the State Department in the name of Mrs. Albert B. Maginnes of White Plains, N.Y., the bride's mother. The wedding, attended by a handful of friends and relatives and Kissinger's two children by his previous marriage, took place before a judge in Arlington, Va. Rockefeller lent the newlyweds a jet for the trip to Acapulco.

Major Bills Face Ohio Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Campaign financing reforms, no fault auto insurance, and a bill establishing a state energy commission face Ohio's lawmakers today as they begin a three-day week leading to a month long recess.

Leaders said those are the major items but others may be considered by committee sessions and floor deliberations. The legislature will adjourn Wednesday and return May 8, the day after the primary election.

A joint conference committee is seeking to work out SenateHouse differences on the campaign financing bill. But it hit a snag at the first meeting last week that could produce an all out deadlock.

Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D—89 New Boston, said the House will not comply with Senate demands for language that would give new life to the political career of Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens, R—4 Middletown.

However, Riffe pointed out that the six-member conference committee is considering differences that do not include what has come to be known as "the Lukens amendment." He said "It wasn't in the Senate version and it wasn't in the House version. They are supposed to consider only the differences in the bill."

The House State Government Committee, in its deliberations, inserted language that would take care of Lukens' problem. However, Rep. Patrick A. Sweeney, D—6 Cleveland, who offered the amendment, said he also did it on behalf of about 600 other persons in Ohio under the same penalty, including about 350 in the Cleveland area.

Riffe indicated the dispute could kill the bill, noting that the House deleted the Sweeney amendment soundly when it reached the floor. "It could very well mean the life of the bill," he said. The Senate Financial Institutions, Insurance, and Elections Committee is expected to vote late today on a bill giving Ohio a no fault insurance law. It would mean that a motorist injured in an accident could collect from his own insurance company, no matter who was to blame, up to a limit of $1,500.

Leaders of both parties predict approval tonight by a joint subcommittee of a measure designed to deal with any existing or future energy crisis. The basics of the measure were agreed to last week by members of the panel headed by Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R—7 Cincinnati.

Under the proposal, there would be a five-member commission empowered to adopt rules and regulations for 30 days, but only by unanimous vote. It could issue a "public call" for a special session of the legislature under language currently in the bill.

The commission would be made up of the governor, two members of the legislature from opposing political parties, and a representative of the energy industry along with one member representing the public. The governor would act as chairman, and would be the spokesman for the state in energy matters involving the federal government.

that the United States "has no bilateral written commitment to the government of the Republic of Vietnam."

"Rather than chart a new beginning, the administration's interpretation of the Paris agreement is perpetuating old relationships and continuing old policies, as if nothing had changed," Kennedy wrote.

Kissinger told Kennedy that with its commitments in mind the administration continues "to provide the Republic of Vietnam the means necessary for its self-defense and for its economic viability." He also said that the United States is obligated because of its long involvement in Vietnam and its national self-interests in achieving a stable government there.

Kennedy said the administration's Indochina programs will cost about $3 billion this year.

"In light of the pressing needs and inflation at home and other urgent priorities overseas, the administration's course in Indochina borders on fiscal irresponsibility and is contrary to the new directions set by Congress last year," Kennedy said in a statement.

Fulbright also commented that he felt that "we are overly committed in these foreign aid programs."

Dispute Flares Over Vietnam Commitment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The extent to which the United States is committed by the Paris peace agreement to aiding South Vietnam has drawn varying interpretations from the secretary of state and the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger believes that the United States is politically and morally committed to giving long-term military and economic aid to South Vietnam.

Under the Paris agreement, Kissinger said in a letter to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., "The United States committed itself to strengthening the conditions which made the cease-fire possible and to the goal of the South Vietnamese people's right to self-determination."

However, Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., responded that the Paris "agreements aren't commitments, they are only a declaration of intent. They are not a moral or legal obligation until Congress passes them."

"The commitment is only an expression of policy of this administration," Fulbright added.

Kennedy also noted that the Paris agreement was never submitted to the Senate as a treaty for ratification and Kissinger, in his letter, acknowledged

Former Nixon Aide On Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jury selection began today for the trial of Dwight L. Chapin, charged with lying to a grand jury about the "dirty political tricks" activities of Donald H. Segretti.

U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard H. Gesell told a panel of 60 that the trial is expected to "not take more than a week or 10 days."

"I can assure you this is a firm estimate; it will not be a long trial," the judge said.

The jury of 12 and four alternates will be sequestered during the trial. In the courtroom were Chapin's wife, Susan, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Chapin.

Chapin, former presidential appointments secretary, was indicted Nov. 29, 1973 on four counts of lying to a grand jury.

Special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski has said that ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III would be a key government witness against Chapin.

Dean, who pleaded guilty last October to conspiring to obstruct the investigation of the Watergate break-in, already has testified as a prosecution witness at the New York trial of former Cabinet members John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans.

Another key prosecution witness will be Segretti, who served five months in a federal correctional facility after pleading guilty to misdemeanor violations of federal election laws. Segretti was released last Monday.

Like Dean, Segretti agreed to cooperate with the special prosecutor's office.

Meanwhile, Vice President Gerald R. Ford has blasted the Committee For the Re-election of the President, describing it in a Chicago speech as an "arrogant, elite guard of political adolescents."

Ford spoke Saturday to more than 1,000 midwest Republicans, including GOP National Chairman George Bush and presidential hopeful Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois. The audience stood and cheered Ford's biting remarks about the re-election committee.

He said the committee "violated the historic concept of the two-party system in America and ran roughshod over the seasoned political judgment and experience of the regular Republican party organization in the 50 states. The fatal defect of CREEP was that it made its own rules and thus made its own ruin," he said.

Later, Ford told a news conference he "spoke as my own man," that his remarks had not been cleared with the White House.

In other Watergate developments, Percy said Sunday in New Haven he expects Nixon to be impeached this year. Meanwhile, sources in Washington said quiet preparations are underway in several Senate offices for a possible impeachment trial. The sources also said other studies are underway by individual senators.

The Chapin indictment said he testified April 11, 1973 before a grand jury investigating Segretti's activities.

Chapin told the grand jury he never discussed the distribution of campaign literature of any kind with Segretti and was unaware that Segretti ever distributed such literature.

The indictment alleged that Chapin's answers "as he then there well knew, were false."

Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

After he was indicted Chapin, 33, took a leave of absence from his job as director of market planning for United Air Lines.

A graduate of the University of Southern California, Chapin hired Segretti, a college chum, allegedly to be a Republican prankster in the 1972 campaign.

But Segretti's pranks included the distribution of literature that appeared to come from various candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination and accused others of misconduct. Distributing political literature which does not identify the source is a federal crime.

Before he joined the White House staff, Chapin met H. R. Haldeman when both were in the advertising business in California. He worked for Haldeman in the White House.

Rare Babies Celebrate

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Michelle and Angela Wright, two of the rarest babies on record, celebrated their first birthday Sunday.

Technically not twins although born at the same time, the baby girls were born from separate and independent uteri.

"It's been a special weekend for the babies and us," said the babies' mother, Lisa Wright, now 18.

The dual uterus births are so rare Dr. Stephen Hornstein said he's only been able to find records of one other such happening.

The two girls were premature and weighed less than five pounds at birth.

Marketbasket Survey Shows Some Price Dips

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The family grocery bill declined slightly during March, the first such drop in five months, an AP market-basket survey shows.

More items went up in price than went down. But sales on meat and eggs cut the dollar value of the market-basket in nine of 13 cities checked, with an average decrease of 2.2 per cent. It was the first month since October that marketbasket declines outnumbered increases.

The AP priced 15 food and nonfood items in 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month.

The latest check showed that 32.3 per cent of the items in the survey went up in price during March, 1974; 23.6 per cent decreased; 36.4 per cent were unchanged; and 7.7 per cent were unavailable on one of the two survey dates.

The marketbasket decreases ranged from a fraction of a per cent in Albuquerque, N.M., to 4 per cent in Boston where the price of a pound of chopped chuck dropped from $1.49 to $1.09.

The bill was up in four cities — Seattle, Wash., New York, Miami and Philadelphia — with an average increase of 1.6 per cent.

Prices in every city were higher at the beginning of April 1974 than they were on March 1, 1973. The market-basket bill was up an average of 13.3 per cent over the 13-month period, with increases ranging from 6 per cent in Los Angeles to 25 per cent in Philadelphia.

Meat sales helped cut the bill. All-beef frankfurters, for example, declined in 11 cities during March and stayed the same in two. The average decline was 9 per cent. The average price for a pound of allbeef franks on March 1, 1973, was $1.09. On March 1, 1974, the average price was $1.35 and on March 30, 1974, it was $1.24.

Eggs decreased in 10 cities, down four or five cents to about 75 cents a dozen in most places. The price increased in two cities, New York and Detroit, and was unchanged in Philadelphia.

Chocolate chip cookies were up in 12 cities during March, rising an average of 5 per cent. They were unavailable in one city. The average price of a 14½-ounce bag of cookies was 61 cents on March 1, 1973; 75 cents on March 1, 1974; and 79 cents on March 30, 1974, for an over-all increase of 30 per cent.

Sugar was up at the retail as well as the wholesale level. A five-pound bag of granulated sugar that cost an average of 68 cents on March 1, 1973, cost $1.00 12 months later and was up to $1.17 in the latest survey, for an overall increase of 72 per cent. Sugar went up in all 13 cities during both February and March, with an average March increase of 17 per cent.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, pork chops, frozen orange juice, coffee, paper towels, butter, eggs, peanut butter, detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, frankfurters and sugar.

The cities covered by the survey were: Atlanta, Albuquerque, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Providence, R.I., Philadelphia, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Seattle.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices stabilized in the stock market today after last week's sharp drop.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 5.87 at 852.55, but declines clung to a narrow lead over advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the losses of the last three sessions had attracted some bargain hunters, but high short-term interest rates were continuing to inhibit chances of a rally.

Uris Buildings was the NYSE volume leader, up 1/4 at 14 1/2 after a 90,000-share block traded at that price.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .06 at 96.31.

Metals issues, except for golds, were mostly higher, and autos recorded fractional gains.

The Amex volume leader was Coleman Co., down 1/4 at 9 1/4. A 30,900 share block of the issue traded at 9 1/4.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks edged off .01 to 54.20.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Charles Not Your Prince Charming

DEAR ABBY How can I meet Prince Charles? I have always admired him, and it has been my dream to meet him one day, but I'm not having any luck. I've written him several letters, and each time his secretary has answered, saying: "The Prince of Wales regrets that he is unable to meet you."

I am a normal, intelligent 20-year-old college girl. I'm told I am pretty and have a pleasing personality. I've read everything I could find about the royal family in general and Prince Charles in particular. I'll bet I know more about the family than most people living in England and the rest of the United Kingdom.

I hope you don't think I'm crazy, but I have even taken horseback riding lessons, and I plan to take flying lessons when I can afford it because I know those are Prince Charles' favorite sports. Also, if we ever meet I will have something to talk about.

Abby, you're supposed to have all the answers Can you help my dream come true?

CATHY IN BROOKLYN

DEAR CATHY: Sorry, but I don't have the answer to this one. Dreaming is alright but we have to live in the real world. So, wake up, Cathy. Your "Prince Charming" could be someone you've already met-in a Brooks

ONLY PAPIER—Lori Pritchard and Kym Gerhardt are shown with a papier mache skeleton they made for demonstration of the skeletal structure. The girls are part of the fourth grade class at Washington Township School studying the human body in science class. Other projects included a papier mache heart and dissection of an animal brain, eye, heart and spinal cord. Mrs. Sandra Henn is the teacher.

Church Class Plans Activities

The New Holland United Methodist Young Adult Class held its March meeting at the church, following a potluck supper, with eight members and children present.

Nancy Kirk, president, called the meeting to order reading an Easter poem entitled, "Ring Easter Bell". Joyce Conrad, treasurer, and Lynda Conrad, secretary, gave their reports which were approved.

Class members voted to purchase two Easter Lillies for the Easter service to be donated to two church members after the service. The class also decided to purchase the Mother's Day flowers.

Other business included the selection of July 15 as the date for the Ice Cream Social and finalization of plans for the Adult Appreciation Supper.

The program committee for April is Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Bielew, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coil.

Brothers suit with a Brooklyn accent, yet!

DEAR ABBY: Please settle a family argument. My husband, who is 43, told our daughter, who is 17, that she that she was "filling out" nicely-then he asked her what her bra size was.

Our daughter became embarrassed, blushed, and said she didn't want to tell him. I came to her defense and said that the question was a personal matter, and I didn't think it was anything her father had to know.

He became angry and said that he was her father and had a right to know! Our daughter was nearly in tears, and I ended the discussion by siding with her, and that is where we left it.

Now my husband is upset with both me and my daughter. Abby, do you think that was a proper question for a father to ask his 17-year-old daughter?

OLD FASHIONED MOM

DEAR MOM: No! Your budding daughter's bra size is none of Dad's business. And while we're on the subject of measuring things, I wonder what your husband's I.Q. is?

DEAR ABBY: I am 35, happily married, and the mother of three. My husband and I enjoy a glass of wine with our dinner. We never become intoxicated or anywhere near it.

My grandparents strongly disapprove of alcoholic beverages, so out of respect to them I never serve it in their presence.

I had eight other guests for dinner, but because my grandparents were here, I omitted the wine, even though my husband and I, my parents, and the other guests would have enjoyed some.

When my husband and I are dining in my parent's home, they always serve wine, but if the grandparents drop in unexpectedly, everyone rushes around hiding the wine bottle and glasses.

I don't want to hurt my grandparents, but I wonder if this is the proper way to handle the wine situation?

ASKING

DEAR ASKING: Since you and your parents ordinarily enjoy wine at dinner, I think it is unnecessary to ditch the wine when the disapproving grandparents unexpectedly drop in. You're probably not fooling them anyway.

Dr. Anderson Retains AAFP Membership

Francis W. Adnerson, M.D., of Circleville, has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice in 1969. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

Comprehensive drug reform legislation was approved 88-3 by the Ohio House and sent to the Senate this week.

The 114-page bill would reduce penalties for most first-offenders convicted of possessing or using drugs. However, mandatory jail terms would be imposed for pushers convicted of trafficking in bulk amounts of drugs.

A new emphasis would be placed on treatment and rehabilitation of drug users by the measure. Treatment in place of conviction would be permitted for some drug users.

Drug use and the crime that is often connected with it is one of the major problems facing our society. This reform bill will be a major step forward in dealing with the problem.

The House and Senate have each stood firmly on their respective versions of campaign financing legislation. This week the measure was sent to a conference committee composed of both senators and representatives to work out a compromise.

The bill passed by the House makes great improvements in Ohio's present campaign financing law. A major feature of the legislation is a provision opening to the public before the election the amount and source of all contributions to a candidate or his political committee.

Most legislators are optimistic that the conference committee will agree on strong legislation that will be acceptable to both houses.

The House approved legislation this week allowing all senior citizens over 62 years of age to vote by absentee ballot.

Notarization of an absentee ballot is required under present law. The legislation approved by the House would abolish this procedure but would require the voter's signature declaring that all statements made on the ballot were true.

If the Senate agrees to House changes in the bill, the legislation will go to the Governor for his signature. The measure could take effect in time for the November general elections.

Over 120,000 Ohioans would be affected by the bill.

Distribution of the application forms for the Ohio Vietnam veterans bonus will be made through the veterans' county service officers of all 88 counties. It's hoped the application forms will be distributed before the end of May.

There will be two forms used for application, one for living veterans and the other for the next-of-kin of deceased veterans. An original certificate of separation (DD Form 214) need not be submitted but a copy, which must be the same size as the original, will be accepted. The copy need not be certified or notarized.

Eligible veterans may opt for the educational benefits, but once this decision is made it is irrevocable.

A Page Of Opinion

Ultimate Power Source

Picture a motorist of the future filling his car's fuel tank with his garden hose — attached to his water spigot. Some Variation of that may be possible, but not before the year 2000, and probably much later. This was the confidence expressed by the 700 delegates attending the first international meeting on water as a source of energy.

Sponsored by the University of Miami, the conference drew participants from 20 nations. The object was to discuss problems which lie in the way of extracting hydrogen from water and thereby producing an almost limitless energy source.

One of the problems mentioned was the chicken-and-egg dilemma, the possibility that a hydrogen-powered vehicle might have to wait for fuel facilities, and the facilities might not be built until the vehicles exist.

But that's a minor problem.

Write Way To Fall In Love

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The new pocket-sized magazine, Science Digest, takes a swing at the nuts, faddists and even some members of the priesthood who tend to accept the "Exorcist" movie and a mounting volume of books and magazine articles on the "casting out of devils" as biblically rooted.

"Unlike many Catholic priests, I do not believe there is a single case of real possession in the Gospels, nor do I believe that Jesus Christ or his disciples were exorcists," writes Fr. Juan B. Cortes, S. J., professor of psychology at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. "The verb 'exorcise' is in fact nowhere employed in the New Testament," adds the Spanish-born Jesuit who earned his theology doctorate at Boston University and his psychology doctorate at Harvard.

"Reported 'demons' are often the outward sign of organic brain damage, epilepsy, neurosis or psychosis — problems that can be treated today without resorting to religious cant," his broadside in "Science Digest" propounds. From his experience in personal counseling, he has concluded that "demons," as defined today, are figments of over-active or sick minds.

"For many who imagine themselves possessed, the real world is so painful they turn inward to delusion. There are many studies showing that of patients in mental hospitals receiving no therapy whatsoever, about 70 per cent get over their illness — or show vast improvement — within two years.

"It's called spontaneous remission. And it can happen to 'possessed' people whether there is no therapy at all or rituals that may drag on for years."

There are somewhat similar misgivings and misinformation in connection with the pleas for and against amnesty for the young men who fled the U.S. to avoid military service during the Vietnam War or, having donned uniform, deserted.

The opposing lines are firm: "We of the American Legion firmly believe that giving any wholesale amnesty would make a mockery of the sacrifices of those men who did their duty, assumed their responsibilities in time of conflict and — in some cases — were killed or seriously wounded," past National Commander James F. O'Neil told the House Judiciary Committee not long ago. President Nixon has taken the same stand on a number of occasions, and has been both damned and applauded.

Organizations and individuals favoring amnesty present sometimes touching and historic evidence to support their position: the parable of the Prodigal Son, the fact (or legend) that Lincoln's last written order pardoned a deserter, Japan's amnesty for 1,300,000 persons believed guilty of actively opposing World War II, and President Truman's compassion for several thousand World War II dodgers.

Jim O'Neil, lone survivor of Truman's amnesty board, hurled no righteous demands at the committee, though he did remind it — in passing — of George Washington's dictum of 1783: "It may be laid down as a primary position and the basis of our system, that every citizen who enjoys the protection of a free government, owes not only a portion of his property, but even of his personal services to the defense of it."

He spoke of "that difficult line between the dictates of the law and the charity our moral heritage demands," but summarized his opponents' views in this way:

"Proponents of amnesty fall into two categories. One group advocates unconditional amnesty for all military deserters and draft evaders. This group reasons that the Vietnam conflict was an immoral war for the United States; that those who recognized this and followed their conscience ought not suffer any legal penalties for being right while their country was wrong; and, therefore, amnesty should be a blanket recognition of this."

O'Neil, long-time editor of the Legion's magazine, added, "Some spokesmen for this view go so far as to advocate full veterans rights and pensions for deserters and evaders for their so-called sufferings in Canada, Sweden and elsewhere. The second group of proponents offer amnesty to draft evaders but not to military deserters, provided that draft evaders prove their sincerity by performing alternate service for their country."

The Legion's recommendation: that all draft evaders be prosecuted. "We would like each case to be heard in court, and tried on its merits. The courts can deal with the particulars of each case, and exercise leniency or sternness, based on the actual facts brought out in hearings about each particular draft evader. Surely the courts will find some who are innocent, and some who should be excused without any further conditions." Estimates place the potential number of such defendants at 70,000. If all responded, the trials would still be going on long after Watergate is indecently interred with Teapot Dome.

Final moralizing for the day: Neat little sign in the rear of a New Jersey church. It reads: "Judas was the first person to leave mass early."

Bush Sees Party Revival

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Despite three Republican losses in special Congressional elections, National Republican Chairman George Bush says a GOP victory in California brought back the fighting spirit.

Bush said Saturday his greatest challenge will be to build party muscle strong enough to fight off the threat of another independent presidential campaign committee.

But the Republican party was not so battered by Watergate that the whole ship will sink, he said.

And the party chief believes President Nixon will stay in office.

"I think resignation is a non-answer," he said at a news conference before addressing an appreciation dinner for U.S. Rep. Clarence Miller, R-Ohio.

Bush said an impeachment trial would be a better way to get to the truth publicly, but speculated the U.S. House will bypass impeachment.

Bush said the GOP has a greater number of talented candidates for the 1976 Presidential race than the Democrats.

He referred to the single California victory as a "one-game winning streak," saying it counterbalanced a loss the same day in Cincinnati.

They'll Do It Every Time

expand the joint project and build more of the big, needle-nosed planes.

British Industry Minister Anthony Wedgwood Benn is meeting today in Paris with Aymar Achille-Fould, the French secretary of state for transport, to discuss the Concorde's future. French officials have said they plan to go through with the program despite the British hesitation and growing disaffection among the French public.

When conceived in the 1960s, the Concorde was enthusiastically backed by the French people. But a poll last week showed that 45 per cent of those asked favored abandonment of the plane to cut down government spending.

The two governments are spending an estimated $2.3 billion to develop a plane that by 1976 will be carrying only about 100 passengers from London to New York in 3½ hours.

The plane now costs about $60 million each to build, and the British Aircraft Corp. and Aerospatiale have 16 of them in the works. But only nine have been sold — to British Airways and Air France, which means that the British and French governments are selling them to themselves.

Commercial airlines have dropped more than 20 options to buy. A secret French government report is said to estimate that no more than 33 of the planes can be sold on the world market. The rising cost of jet fuel has added to the airlines' doubts that they can make a profit on Concorde travel.

Plane Crashes; 2 Persons Killed

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Two men died Sunday afternoon when their single engine aerobatic training plane crashed near Xenia.

The Ohio Highway Patrol identified the victims as Brian Houston and Scott Norman Dillon.

The patrol said the crash occurred about 5 p.m. The plane hit the ground vertically. The engine was buried by the impact.

Big Price Hike For Bananas

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — Standard Fruit Co. says it probably will suspend banana exports from this Central American country for several weeks because of the effects of a new export tax on the market.

The 1.0 to 2.5 cents per pound tax is expected to raise retail banana prices in the United States from 16.5 to 20 cents a pound. It was agreed upon this month by seven Latin American banana-producing countries and is to go into effect April 15.

Four Standard officials said they believed the demand for bananas would decline at least temporarily as it did when the prices of other fruits increased.

Guatemala, Costa Rica, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Colombia and Ecuador decided on the tax.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have had a fibroid tumor of my womb for many years. The doctor has been watching it at regular intervals, and I have not been concerned about it. Recently, a friend intimated that these tumors can become malignant. Since then, I have not had a restful night's sleep.

Mrs. M.W., La.

Dear Mrs. W.:

The friend would have been a better friend if she did not impose her misinformation on you.

From a strict scientific and medical point of view, it is true that certain tumors, when overlooked and neglected, can become malignant or cancerous. This technical fact, however, does not apply to you.

The tumor of your uterus has rightfully been kept under observation by your own doctor. Had the tumor suddenly become enlarged, or had there been any unusual type of prolonged menstrual bleeding, you can be certain that your own doctor would have suggested surgical removal.

It was unfair to implant such an unnecessary fear into your psyche. After you have my reassurance, you should, of course, be examined at this time to definitively blot out your present anxiety.

Is an angiogram a dangerous procedure in a person past fifty? How is it done?

Mr. F.P., Kan.

Dear Mr. P.:

Angiograms are one of a group of many techniques that are now in use for learning all about the conditions of the blood vessels of the neck, the brain, the heart, the abdomen, and of the arms and legs. By a complicated technique, special dyes are injected into the bloodstream and then followed by X-rays as the dye passes through the entire circulatory system.

There is a moderate risk to every procedure. When an angiogram is suggested, the advantages are carefully balanced against the disadvantages. If any special risks are apparent, the procedure is usually postponed. Certainly the age of 50 is not the criterion for or against the use of this valuable adjunct to modern diagnosis.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

The following letter has been sent to each member of the Circleville Board of Education. I am sending it to you as a point of public information. The subject of this letter will be dealt with at a private board meeting on Wednesday noon, April 3. It might be helpful if other members of the community, who feel as I do, would contact the board before this meeting.

Dear Board Member,

I am writing to tell you that there are a great many people in our community who are absolutely appalled by the coverage of the last school board meeting, which was released to WNRE and the Circleville Herald. The terse, unfeeling statement made about Walter Sale renders any future action taken by the board relatively unimportant in comparison. However, such action must and will be taken. I urge that it be done with full consideration of the intelligence and ability of Mr. Sale, as well as the loyal and devoted service he has given to CHS.

Mr. Sale is a gentleman — in the full sense of the word — gentleman. Many of the problems he has encountered in our school system have been due to the fact that we have failed to instill in our children a sense of respect for creative intelligence when not accompanied by brute force. To label Mr. Sale as inefficient is shocking and untrue. To label our children as insensitive, our parents as permissive and our administration as dogmatic might be more apt. I implore you, as school board members, representing our community, to address yourselves to this matter with the utmost care and concern. Thank you.

SINCERELY,
TRUDY R. YATES
126 E. Mound St.

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this time to express my sincere thanks for the past support that the Pickaway County Easter Seal Society has given me. Over a year and a half ago I had a motorcycle accident that left me a paraplegic. The society came to my aid and purchased a wheelchair for me and has made repairs on my chair when needed.

With these services I have been able to adjust my life to attend college and to participate in Ohio Wheelchair Sports as a member of the Buckeye Wheelers.

This has helped me to overcome my disability when I know that such an organization exists a person doesn't realize what it means to be healthy and not have to go through all the pain and worries that go along with being handicapped.

If you've tossed your Easter Seals in the waste basket, I urge you to reconsider. The society ranks third in the nation for helping people. Only you can make it possible for these services for children and adults to continue in Pickaway County. Please take the time to send your donation to this worthy cause.

Thank you,
LARRY A. STANT

Dear Editor:

The following letter was sent to Representative William H. Harsha from the Sophomore Class at Logan Elm High School.

This is a letter in regard to the questionnaire you submitted to the public on the fate of our president.

Some of our sophomore geography and history classes took polls on this questionnaire you submitted. The following results were tabulated: 14-Impeachment; 10-Resignation; 86-Remain in Office.

Here at Logan Elm we feel that the minority are the ones bending our strong government structure. We have come to realize it is our duty as the majority to speak-up.

We have come to conclude that there are several factions which are launching an attack on the presidency and the United States.

Among these is the fact that 90 per cent of all media in the United States uses destructive criticism. They have tried the President in the press instead of in the court, where he should be tried. Their liberal opinion has degraded the presidency.

Mr. Nixon squelched these Liberals with the ending of the Viet Nam War. They had been complaining and demonstrating for almost a decade. But no, now they have to find something else about which to complain.

Another faction that is attacking the presidency is an opposing force that could not take the defeat in the 1972 election. This group is constantly harassing the President and this is bad; it should not be this way in a Democratic process.

Finally, impeachment or resignation could be damaging. The United States is strong now, but what would it be without a leader? How would other countries look upon us?

We need the respect of these countries to remain number one. We are not going to do it with "Watergate" and impeachment.

We thank you for the fine representation and hope that this letter will affect your thinking. After all, we are tomorrow's leaders.

Thanking you,
DANNY STEVENS

State Candidates Won't File Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Seven candidates for statewide office have declined to take part in a Common Cause project for voluntary filing of campaign disclosure statements, the citizens' lobby announced Friday.

Heading the list of those declining to participate is former Gov. James A. Rhodes, who is seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination, according to Genay A. Hess of Columbus, the group's publicity coordinator.

Others are gubernatorial candidates Bert Dawson Jr., Republican, and James D. Nolan, Democrat; lieutenant governor aspirant Anthony O. Calabrese and William M. O'Neill, both Democrats; Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Republican seeking reelection, and George C. Smith, candidate for the GOP nomination for attorney general.

Hess said 11 candidates have filed the statements and 12 others indicated they will do so before the April 27 deadline.

Common Cause said the following candidates filed:

Republican for attorney general — Stanley J. Aronoff.

Democrat for attorney general — William J. Brown.

Democrats for secretary of state —

R. Kent Bell, Beverly Bingle, and Tony P. Hall.

Republican for auditor — Roger W. Tracy Jr.

Democrat for treasurer — Gertrude W. Donahey.

Gov. John J. Gilligan was among a dozen other candidates who told Common Cause they would file disclosure statements prior to the May primary.

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown reported the largest figures, saying they cover the period dating back to January 27, 1972. He listed contributions of $236,055 and expenditures of $77,871.65.

State Treasurer Gertrude W. Donahey reported no receipts and no expenditures but said she would file a report when she has organized her committee. She is without primary election opposition.

Celeste reported he has raised $36,441, with major contributions coming from the United Auto Workers union and his parents, while Hall listed receipts totaling $23,861. Celeste and Hall each reported $15,000 donations from the UAW.

Aronoff said he has received about $22,663 and spent most of it. Huston reported contributions of $8,335; J. W. Brown $150, and Roger Tracy Jr. $6,354.

Teamsters Try To Wipe Out Cesar Chavez Farm Union

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Teamsters Union is spending as much as $100,000 a month in a new campaign to sign up farm laborers and wipe out Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers of America union, the Los Angeles Times reported Friday.

Teamsters officials, who formerly dealt almost exclusively with growers, are now meeting with the field workers themselves to try to convince them that the Teamsters have more to offer, the newspaper said.

Other representatives of the nation's largest union are fanning out across the country in an effort to counter the UFW's boycott against grape and lettuce growers who have Teamster contracts.

Public relations experts have been hired to try to improve the image of the union, which often has been pictured as a Goliath against Chavez' David in the longstanding dispute.

"Chavez is through," says Cono Mecias, chief supervisor for the Teamsters' Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee. "The workers are through with him. His future looks bad."

The United Farm Workers still draw large crowds at rallies but membership is down to about 10,000 from a high of more than 50,000 several years ago. More and more growers are signing with the Teamsters.

But Chavez told the Times he is still confident his union will prevail.

"Normally, a small, struggling union like ours would have been destroyed by the combined opposition of a powerful union whose president (Frank Fitzsimmons) is a friend of the President of the United States and growers with great influence in their communities," Chavez said.

"But it is not going to destroy us. Our boycott will be more effective than ever. We are going to beat them. We will kick the Teamsters out of the fields this year."

ORDINANCE NO. 20-74
FIXING THE SALARY OF THE HUMANITY OFFICER AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1: That beginning with the First day of January, 1974, the salary of the Humanity Officer of the City of Circleville, Ohio, shall be $1,128.00 per annum, payable monthly on the first day of each month, from the General Revenue Fund.

SECTION 11: That Council declares this to be an emergency ordinance necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; such emergency being necessary to hire competent help, and shall take effect immediately upon its passage.

ORDINANCE NO. 26-74
AN ORDINANCE FIXING THE SALARIES OF FIREMEN & DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, it is deemed necessary to introduce an ordinance regulating the salaries of Fire Department personnel; NOW THEREFORE, be it ordained by the Council of the City of Circleville, Ohio:

SECTION 1: That beginning the first day of January, 1974, the official pay plan of the Fire Department shall be as set forth below: Firemen: Start $384, 2 yr $592, 4 yr $780, 6 yr $808, 8 yr $826, 10 yr $842.

The annual salary for Lieutenants shall be nine thousand two hundred dollars.

The annual salary for the Chief shall be eleven thousand dollars.

The above yearly salaries shall be figured at fifty six hours per week, and all Firemen below the rank of Chief shall receive time and one half for all hours worked over fifty six hours per week. Furthermore, this overtime pay shall be figured at one and one half times the rate of pay for forty hour week.

Changes in rates shall be made on the anniversary date of employment.

On completion of his tenth year of service each Fireman, regardless of rank, shall receive ten dollars per year of service payable on the first payday in December following the completion of such period of service.

SECTION 11: That all salaries listed in this ordinance shall be payable semi-monthly on the first and fifteenth days of each calendar month.

SECTION 111: That all portions of previous ordinances pertaining to wages of the Fire Department shall hereby be rescinded.

SECTION 11V: That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure, necessary for the preservation of public peace, health and safety of the City of Circleville, and its inhabitants, and specifically for the purpose of establishing a scale of pay for the Fire Department, and this ordinance shall take effect and be in force immediately from and after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

Vesco Witness Admits To Lies

NEW YORK (AP) — The government witness whose testimony at the Mitchell-Stans conspiracy trial has been most damaging to former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans has admitted he lied under oath five times before the trial began.

"Are you lying now to avoid prosecution?" a defense lawyer demanded of the witness, George Bradford Cook, 36. He quit last May 17 after 10 months as chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

"I'm not lying now," Cook told the U.S. District Court jury Friday, as the trial of Stans and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell on charges of conspiracy, obstructing justice and perjury ended its sixth week. The prosecution is nearing the end of its case.

The two men who quit the cabinet to head President Nixon's re-election campaign are accused of impeding an SEC investigation of financier Robert L. Vesco in return for Vesco's secret cash contribution of $200,000 to Nixon's campaign, of concealing the contribution and of lying to the grand jury about it.

Cook is the son of a wealthy Nebraska banker whose friendship with Stans helped him get his SEC post. Cook testified that Stans spoke to him many times about the SEC probe of Vesco's financial empire before a massive fraud suit was filed against Vesco on Nov. 27, 1972. Vesco was indicted with Mitchell and Stans but has fled the country and is a fugitive.

Cook said Stans caused him to eliminate reference to Vesco's campaign contribution from the civil fraud complaint and also tried to stop the filing of transcripts of testimony which would have revealed the contribution.

In addition, he said that Stans had admitted to him that he had lied to the grand jury and had tacitly suggested that Cook do the same.

Under questioning by Asst. U.S. Atty. John R. Wing, Cook admitted he had lied on his first two appearances before the grand jury. Then, he said, he told Stans he was going to "tell it like it was" and told the truth on his third grand jury appearance.

But under questioning by defense lawyers Walter Bonner and Peter Fleming Jr., Cook admitted he had also lied on his third appearance. Cook admitted that he had also lied in three appearances before Congressional committees, twice under oath.

He said one of his lies was in telling a

Senate committee the SEC complaint against Vesco was slated for redrafting before its details were made known to Stans.

Cook said he also might have lied during two White House interviews, one with Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. and another with presidential counsel Leonard Garment.

Bonner asked Cook why he had lied. "Was it out of respect for Mr. Stans? Affection for Mr. Stans? Loyalty to the Republican party? Loyalty to the President? Because Mrs. Stans was ill at the time and almost died in November?"

Judge Lee P. Gagliardi sustained a government objection and would not let Cook answer.

But when Wing, the government lawyer, got another crack at Cook, he

Food Prices May Decline This Spring

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 4 per cent drop in raw farm product prices in late winter may mean some springtime bargains for food shoppers, but choices may be limited.

The decline, reported Friday by the Agriculture Department, covered all farm products and included many items which do not go directly into groceries such as corn, soybeans and hay.

But meat animals, one of the most important consumer categories, showed a price drop of 8 per cent from Feb. 15 to March 15. Some of those products, especially beef, already have shown up as lower priced specials at retail counters.

Even so, farm prices frequently are volatile. They gyrated wildly last summer, after the Nixon administration eased store price curbs, and then declined for three months before starting another round of increases that lasted most of the winter.

However, the report Friday included a hint that retail food price increases may be slowing. As of March 15, it said, food prices paid by farm families were up 1.5 per cent from a month earlier.

Although USDA economists say the report's food price figure is not as reliable as other government statistics gathered specially for that purpose, it did give some idea that consumers saw supermarket price gains slow a bit in March.

Here is why: a month ago, a similar farm price report said food prices went up 4.0 per cent from Jan. 15 to Feb. 15. When the Bureau of Labor Statistics issued its February prices for store-bought food, those were shown to have risen 3.0 per cent.

In addition to the downturn in meat animal prices, the farm report Friday also showed consumers might expect some other breaks.

asked: "Why did you lie?"

Gagliardi at first sustained a defense objection. But he changed his mind after the prosecution argued, with the jury out of the room, that "the government should be allowed to rehabilitate a witness whose credibility has been attacked."

Finally allowed to answer, Cook said he had lied for two basic reasons.

"Number one, as a result of my conversations with Mr. Stans and, number two, I did not want to bring any discredit or dishonor to the commission as to the fact that I had these conversations with Mr. Stans."

Pickaway Senior Center Meeting Attended By 200

Over 200 persons attended the monthly social meeting of Pickaway Senior Center held Thursday in the Parish House of Trinity Lutheran Church. Morning activities consisted of visifing, playing cards and other table games.

Tom Spittler and two technicians from the Ohio Diabetes Assn. in Columbus gave free diabetes tests to 325 people. Last year 191 persons took advantage of this opportunity.

At noon, members of the Kitchen Band served homemade bean soup with ham, corn bread and cole slaw. Birthday cakes provided dessert. Mrs. Pauline Jones, Center Chaplain, said grace.

The afternoon musical program featured Randy Wolfe, a student at Circleville Junior High School, at the piano. He played a half-hour of selections ranging from jazz to classical and modern and concluded his performance with his own arrangement of "Alley Cat." Everyone spontaneously joined in hand clapping to this tune.

Other music enjoyed by the listeners included two duets sung by Viola Hartrant and her sister, Pauline Pearce, accompanied at the piano by thier mother, Mrs. May Rhymer. The Kitchen Band then played several humorous numbers and the program concluded with group singing of "How Great Thou Art."

John Miranda, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Twila Lorentz announced the next scheduled trip will be on May 9 to the Neil Armstrong Space Museum in Wapakoneta. Reservations will be open at the April 25 all-day meeting. She also announced the Circleville Kiwanis Club had given the Center $500 for operational costs, making a total of $1000 the club has given the Center during the fiscal year. Members expressed their appreciation for the gift to Bill Smith of Kiwanis.

It was voted to transfer $500 from the activities fund to complete money needed for the year ending March 31. An application for the third year funding for the Center has been submitted to the Ohio Commission on Aging. The rate this year will be on a 50-50 basis with 50 per cent of the budget provided by the Federal Government under Title III of Older American's Act and the other 50 per cent raised locally. Mrs. Lorentz thanked all of the members for their support throughout the year.

The first money making project of the new year will be a garage sale on April 20 at the Center, including crafts, baked goods, homemade noodles, sandwiches and beverages. The sale hours are from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Items may be brought to the Center any time. The sale will coincide with the Spring Convention of Ohio Campers Assn. held at Pickaway County Fairgrounds the weekend after Easter.

A request for old sheet music, especially one that could be used by the Kitchen Band, was made.

Mr. Miranda has completed two years as president of the group, and he and his wife, Ruth, were given a standing ovation for their work. Election of new officers will take place at the April meeting.

Others with March birthdays but not present were: Opal Leist, Dorothy Gregory, Mary Valentine, Nellie Swackhammer, Charles Kirkpatrick, Richard Justus, Mary Minor, Bart Deming, Marguerite Stevison, Mazie Wilkins, Ethel McDonald, Mary Leshner, Cora Neff, Wendell Turner, Wayne Hines, Dorothy Haynes, Dolly Grubb and Marvine Duleson.

It was announced that Mrs. Ruby Wallon who was injured in a fall recently, is now at home. Mrs. Daisy Price who had undergone eye surgery was present at the meeting, as was the group's oldest member, fondly called "Aunt Minnie" Heise. She was 103 last September 29 and is now a resident at the Brown Memorial Nursing Home.

Members were all invited to the Ashville group meeting, Thursday, April 11, in the Shelter House in Ashville Community Park. Quite a number of the Ashville group were present at this meeting.

A special guest for the day was Miss Kitty Meade, formerly of Circleville and one of the original members of the Pickaway Social Club. Kitty now lives in Lancaster and is active in the Fairfield county Senior Citizens group.

41st Anniversary Observed By Guild

Members of Union Guild met Thursday at The Valley House in Chillicothe, to observe the 41st anniversary of its foundings.

A smorgasboard dinner was enjoyed at noon. Mrs. Helen Newlon, Mrs. Clyde Herron and Mrs. Austin Hoover made the table favors in keeping with the Easter season. Mrs. Herron was in charge of the games that were played during the afternoon.

The following members attended: Mrs. Clyde Herron, Mrs. Austin Hoover, Mrs. Marvene Duleson, Mrs. Gail Linton, Mrs. Orin Bircher, Miss Mary Shortridge, Mrs. Lawrence Krimmel, Mrs. Lucille Terry, Mrs. Magadalene Fee.

Mrs. Ethel Marshall, Mrs. Ida Mitchell, Mrs. Fred Dean, Mrs. Edna Immell, Mrs. Ruby Goodman, Mrs. Helen Newlon, Mrs. Pauline Schooley, Mrs. Mary Barr, Mrs. Marjorie Rhinehart and Mrs. Grace Streitenberger. Guests were; Mrs. Norman Schooley, Mrs. William Metzger and Mrs. Helen Smith.

The April meeting of the guild will be in the home of Mrs. Marjorie Rhinehart, South Bloomfield. Mrs. Mary Barr will be the assisting hostess.

Garden Club To Meet In Newlon Home

Mrs. Albert Newlon, Route 3, will entertain Solaqua Garden Club in her home 1:30 p.m. Friday. Mrs. C. W. Hedges will be co-hostess.

For the program, Mrs. Bernard Savey will use as her topic "Using Driftwood."

Pythian Sisters Complete Plans For Inspection

Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple 516 completed plans for inspection of April 4 at its Thursday evening meeting in the K of P lodge hall.

Mrs. Opal Vance, most excellent chief, presided over the business session attended by 29 members. Staff members were invited to assist with Stoutsville Inspection 8 p.m., May 22, at the K of P hall in Stoutsville.

District Past Chiefs Club has planned a pot-luck dinner at Amanda K of P lodge hall in Amanda.

Plans have been completed for a bake sale on April 6, beginning 8:30 a.m. in the lobby of the K of P Temple on N. Court St.

Beginning April 1, the meeting time will be changed from 7:30 to 8 p.m. at the K of P lodge hall. Gift boxes brought by Norma Toland were won by Leona Crites and Geneva Woodward.

Named on the refreshment committee for the inspection are Helen Wilkins, chairman; Marie Wilkinson, Midora Cupp, Joyce Eveland and Virginia Baker.

CARE Director Jr. Womens Club Guest Speaker

Judith Johnson, Ohio-Kentucky regional director for CARE, the international aid and development organization, will speak on "What's Happening In Haiti" at the April 4th meeting of the Circleville Junior Women's Club which will be held 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Melvin Ehrlich, 365 Juhl Road.

Mrs. Johnson has traveled widely in her work with CARE and recently spent two weeks reviewing CARE projects in the Dominican Republic and Haiti. The Circleville Junior Women's Club supports CARE projects through the International Affairs Department of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs of which they are a member.

Proceeds from the May bake sale will be used to fund new CARE projects among the underdeveloped countries of Africa through the "Challenge Of Change" program. For every dollar the club donates, CARE will send $6.42 worth of aid overseas thru their partnership programs with host countries.

Red Writer Claims Press Made Error

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Alexander Solzhenitsyn says that American newspaper commentators mistakenly interpreted his "Letter to the Soviet Leaders" as a call for nationalism.

The exiled Soviet writer, in an interview Sunday, said mutual understanding between the Soviet and American peoples "is particularly essential and is very difficult to establish from afar, using the superficial and often insufficiently thought-out judgments of the daily press."

"My 'Letter to the Soviet Leaders' was, even before its publication in the United States, subjected in the press, beginning with The New York Times, to primitive and even mistaken interpretations in contradiction to its real meaning. My program set down in this letter is a deduction from that general belief that nations and people can attain their supreme spiritual results only at the price of voluntary self-limitation in the outside world, concentrating exclusively on their internal development.

"For this reason, I suggested that my country should unilaterally renounce all conquests abroad and violence against all nations near and far, renounce all world pretensions and all kinds of international rivalry, in particular ... the arms race.

"I suggested that all this should be done on a scale far exceeding that which they dream of achieving by nuclear 'detente' and such a program was interpreted by American newspaper commentators as nationalism, that is the ideology of the warlike expansion of one's nation. The very idea of following the most recent technological recommendation of the Club of Rome was characterized as 'utopianism' and 'a call for return to the past.' In this way, the press is capable of introducing incomprehension between distant parts of the planet rather than internal understanding."

The Club of Rome is an international

Sohio Rips Metzenbaum

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The president of The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) charged that statements made by Sen. Howard Metzenbaum about the company's financial standings are reckless and false.

"His latest blast falsely charges self dealing by Sohio and BP Oil, but acknowledges that he doesn't have all the facts," Sohio's president Alton W. Whitehouse said in a news release Friday. BP is a major stockholder of Sohio.

"The facts of the matter are plain," said Whitehouse. "Sohio is a crude-short company and its crude oil supply in recent months has been tight. It has been buying oil where it could around the world at going market prices."

Sohio said it purchased oil from BP in January for $11.66 per barrel and that oil from other sources, excluding Canada, cost Sohio $15.18 per barrel.

Metzenbaum said that Sohio's reported $57 million increase in profits was actually $200 million and that the company concealed that fact by a special accounting technique.

Fight Public Aid To Private Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The traditional Catholic parochial school will survive financially without public aid because the church is "property-rich," but it needs broader support from its own members.

That is the philosophy expressed by Dr. G. Weir Hartman, executive director of the Ohio Free Schools Association.

The OFSA held a day-long conference Saturday to build its support of "public education, religious freedom and separation of church and state."

Dr. Hartman, a Columbus Methodist minister, said the organization views "with great alarm" the diversion of public funds away from public schools into private education.

It has filed an amicus curiae (friend of the court) brief in the American Civil Liberties Union federal court case against the Ohio legislature. The ACLU is trying to halt an $81.4 million distribution of state money for special services to private schools.

"We want to protect public education and prevent anything that hurts it," Dr. Hartman explained during an interview.

He claimed that two-thirds of Catholic parents now enroll their children in public schools to take advantage of available services out of reach of the parochial schools.

Dr. Hartman said the successful private schools are those which do not accept public money and public limitations.

He said the OFSA would advocate the closing of private schools because a single system would unite communities. He disclaimed the theory that a shutdown of parochial schools would flood public schools systems.

"Public funding for private education violates the basic principle of the first amendment," Dr. Hartman said. "It co-mingles religion and political power."

Donald Traxler, president of the Ohio Education Association, told the conference the OEA regards public aid to private schools as a step toward the destruction of public education.

"It (aid) is a step toward racial, social and economic isolation of children," Traxler said.

Cooperation Appeal Made By Firemen

The Laurelville Fire Department makes an appeal for cooperation from residents served for advance notice of controlled burning. Perry, Saltcreek and Benton Townships are furnished fire protection from the department and are asked to cooperate with the firemen in this way.

Advance notice of controlled burning will have a two-fold advantage. First, if firemen are aware of the burning, they will not become alarmed when the fire is reported. Secondly, advance notice of the location will aid faster service if the fire should get out of control.

Two calls have already been received this spring from persons reporting a grass fire. Both calls were accompanied with poor directions. Poor directions only lead to greater inefficiency on the part of the fire department. If firemen have to spend extra time finding the location of the fire, there is greater difficulty in getting it under control.

Jim Shaw, fire chief for the Laurelville Fire Department, advises extra precaution be taken when burning. Extra precaution will help to keep the burning under control. The fire chief warns, if there is any doubt of the fire getting out of control, the department should be notified immediately.

Youth Plan Rap Session

A youth Rap Session is scheduled 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, at the home of Bob Hively, 224 Sherwood Drive.

The group invites city and county youth to attend the informal talk period and encourages those youth who attended the movie "Time To Run".

Logan Elm FFA Places In Contests

Six members of the Logan Elm Future Farmers of America placed third in the District 10 small engine contest March 20.

Members attending were: Tony Carroll, Don Thompson, Terry Churchhues, Doug Baldwin, Dan Kurtz and Greg Kneec.

Don Thompson and Terry Churchhues will procede to the state small-engine contest.

The chapter also sent six members to the livestock judging contest March 28. Members attending were: John Norton, Weis Harmon, Tony Carroll, Don Minor, Tracy Carroll and Greg Kneec.

The group placed tenth in the district.

Members of the Logan Elm Chapter played the Zane Trace FFA Chapter, March 25, in a game of basketball winning 110 to 48.

Youth Crusade of the Peoples Faith Chapel will continue 7:30 p.m. each evening this week at the church. The Rev. Joe Leatherwood of Ashville will be the speaker.

Derby News

On the sick list last week were Shirley, Gary, and Debbie Wardell. All had a round of the flu, and are feeling better now; Archie Sweet - a bout with the virus; Chester Dawson, underwent back surgery on March 8, in Doctor's hospital, is now home convalescing, he would love to hear from his friends.

Sorry to report that Mrs. Minnie Ridgeway was rushed to the hospital on Wednesday night with pneumonia. There's nothing definite on her condition at this writing, but we all hope she will soon be on the road to recovery.

Several from here attended the Vaudvilleties opening, "Hooray for Hollywood", on opening night, Wednesday at the Vets Memorial.

Saltcreek Grange To Host Youth Group

The Saltcreek Valley Grange will host the Pickaway County Grange Youth Group at the regular meeting 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Each year the youth group visits all subordinate granges in the area to present a program. This project is one of the many that are part of the national grange youth program.

Director of the program is Karen Ewing who serves as the recreation leader for the youth group in the county.

Following the meeting and the program, the host grange will provide refreshments of salad and sandwiches for the social period.

Ohio's Weekend Accident Toll 9

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nine persons, five of them pedestrians, were killed in traffic accidents over the weekend, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

A three-year-old Columbus boy was killed as he darted across a Lawrence County road Saturday, and a 93-year-old Coshocton man died the same day when struck at a Coshocton intersection. A Cleveland woman died crossing a street Sunday.

According to the patrol, drivers fled after two other pedestrians were killed — a 77-year-old Napoleon man early Saturday and a hitchhiker in Mansfield Friday night.

One man died when his car collided with a train Saturday in Miami County.

There were no multiple-death accidents over the weekend.

The dead:
SUNDAY
CLEVELAND — Virginia Hutchinson, 24, of Cleveland, hit as she crossed a Cleveland street.
LORAIN — Donald Bennett, 18, of Lorain, in a three-car accident on Quarry Road in Lorain County.

SATURDAY
IRONTON — Britton Dale Dean, 3, of Columbus, hit as he darted across a county road in Lawrence County.

COSHOCTON — Charles M. Kreis,

93, of Coshocton, struck while crossing a street at a Coshocton intersection.
PIQUA — William Conover, 86, when his car collided with a train south of Piqua in Miami County.

CINCINNATI — Douglas L. Nields, 28, of suburban Cleves, when his car collided head-on with a tractor-trailer rig on Ohio 128 near Miamitown.

MARTINS FERRY — Joseph A. Brodzik Jr., 28, of Martins Ferry, in a one-car crash on U. S. 40 just east of Ohio 214 in Belmont County.

NAPOLEON — James Hoffman, 77, of Napoleon, when struck on Ohio 108 five miles south of Napoleon in Henry County.

FRIDAY NIGHT
MANSFIELD — Alvin J. Straka, 30, of Crestline, while hitchhiking along U. S. 30 in Mansfield.

Carbon Monoxide Blamed For Deaths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police said that Marvin Blasley, 24, and his 21-year-old wife, Shelia, whose bodies were found Sunday evening in their Columbus home, apparently died Saturday night of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Authorities blamed a faulty space heater.

Good Natured Warriors

By JIM BISHOP

The day of St. Patrick has come and gone, and all I could think of was my old man. Big John was born in America, but in some ways he was more Irish than the Irish. He made the originals look like fakes.

A true Irishman, you see, has exaggerated emotions. They include sentiment, contempt, poetry, fear, religion, love and superstition. By nature, an Irishman squelches them and sits tightly on the lid of his imaginings.

His greatest fear—and bear in mind, I am generalizing—is the fire of hell, and then, to a slightly lesser degree, admitting that there is something he doesn't know.

This was my old man. Once I said to him, "The greatest words ever written were, 'Love Ye One Another.'" He smiled and shook his head. "You," he said, "are beginning to show small signs of intelligence."

"It's such a pity," I said, "that they were written a thousand years before the Irish learned to read." The smile froze. "If I get up out of this chair," he said, "I will break your face."

The French Are Wrong

He studied many subjects until he was 85. Pronunciation was not one of them. He said a channel swimmer had left "Cape Grizz-Nezz." "It's pronounced 'Gree-nay,'" I said. "Grizz-Nezz," he said. "Gree-nay is the way the French pronounce it." His teeth ground. "I can't help it," he said, "if the French can't speak English."

Big John loved the Irish and admired his heritage from Wexford and Cork. His grandfather, John Murphy, had been a color sergeant in the British army in the Crimean War: "God forgive him."

When John Michael Bishop became a police lieutenant, he collected anecdotes from those he called "greenhorns" on the force. He took an Irish cop into the Cafe Savarin one day for lunch. There was a big, cut-glass bowl full of grapefruit. The policeman nudged my father. "Look at the size of them oranges," he said. "I bet it wouldn't take many of them to make a dozen."

For years he corresponded with a cousin Jim in Lower Scooby, Wexford. Suddenly he stopped. I asked why. "The s.o.b. is asking for money," he snapped. Life in an Irish family, he said, was an emotional scenic railway. "They're either laughing uproariously or sobbing."

His mother lost three children to diphtheria in Christmas week 1898. She wanted no tears. The survivors were ordered to get on their knees and mumble, "Thy will be done."

When she was 80, she was small and sharp, a woman with slanted upper lids and skin like cracked custard. The McCarthy grandchildren — Joe, Vince, Veronica, Francis and the rest — taught her how to play poker for pennies.

They fought her to the death for a pot. Whenever she had a good hand, her fingers and lower lip began to tremble. Around the dining room table, everyone took a look, nodded and dropped out. She'd rake in the skinny pot, get up and walk through the house slamming doors.

Wiskey isn't the curse of the Irish. It's their salvation. Rye cured everything from pneumonia to leprosy. It saved lives before the Irish knew the nature of an antibiotic.

My father was neither a sot nor an alcoholic. He drank booze in self-defense. He was getting a haircut one day, when a buddy in the next chair died under a steaming towel. For the rest of his life, Big John never went to a barbershop without hitting a saloon first.

When he went on the wagon, he wanted the world to sit up behind the horses. When anyone died, he considered it improper (1) to have the wake in a funeral parlor instead of the living room; (2) not to have whiskey and a big ham in the kitchen.

He believed in "the little people" and the "fairies" of Ireland. Why? "Because my father told me he saw them, that's why." He envisioned the

The Green Tin Box

He was 85, snowy and tottering, when he crooked his finger and said, "Commere." I went to his side. He pointed to a couch. "See that green tin box?" he said. I nodded.

"When I go," he said, "you will find $600 in cash in it. Now bear this in mind. I want you to use three hundred for masses for the repose of my soul. God knows I'm gonna need it."

"And the other three hundred?" I said. He smiled. "Whoever comes to pay their last respects, buy them a good dinner and a big drink. Tell 'em it's on me. If they're old friends, they'll understand."

I should have been thinking of St. Patrick. My father, who never saw Ireland was a lot more Gaelic. And, as my mother would say, far less saintly

No Change In Bedsheet Ballots

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Both political parties want to do something about the so-called bedsheet election ballots in Ohio, but no change is expected this year.

Democrats will wait to see what comes out of their special national mini-convention at Kansas City next December—first such convocation for a major party in the middle of a presidential term.

Delegate selection to the regular national convention is a prime topic for the Kansas City meeting. Selections in Ohio under present law are the main reason ballots look like bedsheets in primary years.

The thrust of the national effort, however, is a state-bystate system of choosing delegates to give the party more equal representation.

Two alternate approaches to the problem are being discussed. The Ohio Constitutional Revision Commission is nearing completion of a recommendation that would place the method of selecting delegates in the hands of the legislature.

Delegate selections now are left up to the parties themselves. In recent years and, particularly, in 1972, with the use of the so-called McGovern guidelines, Democrats found themselves in many states in an outright war with each other. Ohio was no exception.

A Senate-approved resolution pending in the House and carrying the approval of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown would spell out in the constitution a new method that would get away from the lengthy ballot.

Candidates for a national convention would not have their names listed on the ballot. Instead, they would pledge themselves to a presidential candidate prior to the election. The names of the presidential contenders would be on the ballot. Winners would have ready-made slates.

A vote for the presidential candidate would also be a vote for each delegate or alternate delegate candidate who declared beforehand that the presidential contender would be on the ballot of his or her choice.

Conserve Two Vital Resources... Water and Natural Gas... In Your Own Home.

When shaving, partially fill the basin with hot water, rather than let hot water go down the drain.

Load'em up. Automatic appliances, like your dishwasher and washer, use lots of hot water. Partial loads waste water and gas.

Stop that drip. A leak of one drop per second adds up to 650 gallons a year. When it's a hot water faucet, you're wasting water and gas.

Need boiling water? Start with water from your hot water faucet. Part of the heating is already done. You'll save time. But cover your pan with a lid and do the job faster with less gas.

New Appliances. Replacing your old gas water heater with a more efficient new one will also save gas. And you can replace with confidence, because if you now have gas in your home, you will continue to be supplied.

A maintenance tip. Drain a bucket of water from the faucet at the base of your water heater once a month. This prevents build-up of mineral deposits that cause your heater to use more gas. It will extend the life of your water heater, too.

And by saving gas and water, you'll also save another resource... money.

Many Owners Training At Local Fairgrounds

ON THE TRACK—Bob Callihan Sr. is training two horses with his son Bob Jr. at Pickaway County Fairgrounds. There are nearly 70 head of harness horses stabled at the local track this spring.

AFTER A WORKOUT—Bryan Weaver finishes unharassing one of his horses following a brisk early morning workout at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. The young horseman has three trotters and a pacer in his stable.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the last of a series of articles about horsemen training at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds half mile track.

In addition to the horsemen whose profession is training and racing harness horses, there are a number of owners with just one or two head who train their own as a hobby.

The Callihans, Bob Sr. and Bob Jr., are training two horses. Plucky Callis owned by Bob Jr. and Marietta Callihan.

A mare with a mark of 2:11, she is by Plucky Boy, and her dam is Chaldale Betty.

Chita B is owned by Bob Sr. and Jim Connolly. Her sire is Chita Star and her dam Chaldale Betty.

Chuck Malone is training Burt's Filly, a 5-year-old pacer he owns with Marvin Young.

Ed Strawser is training Timothy T. S., his own 2-year-old trotter.

Wilson Green has Ethel's Time, a 2-year-old filly and Ima's Best, a 4-year-old gelding, both of which he owns.

Robert Radabaugh is training The Gay Saint, a 5-year-old gelding.

Jim Zimmerman is training Paula's Taffy, a 5-year-old pacer by Pink Taffy. He also owns Miss Beauty Queen, a 6-year-old pacer by Lang Hanover.

Clyde Kohn is training Johnny Angel, a promising 2-year-old trotter by Big John and Twiliga Blue, a 5-year-old pacer by Blue Steel.

Top Dragster, 2 Mechanics Are Killed

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
Dave Anderson, a race driver for 21 years, wanted a shot at Gary Gabelich's world land speed record. He'll never get it.

Anderson, 43, died Saturday when his rocket-propelled dragster crashed at Charlotte, N.C. Two other persons were killed in the accident.

Carlos Reutemann, a broad-shouldered comparative newcomer from Argentina, had forecast last year that 1974 would be his big year on the international Formula 1 Grand Prix circuit.

Saturday, Reutemann won the South African Grand Prix. Only 10 days ago, American star Peter Revson had met his death in a crash while testing for the race.

Anderson, who labeled himself "the world's fastest shoe" and called his hydrogen peroxide dragster the "Pollution Packer," had set 13 international speed records at Bonneville, Utah, last September.

He had planned to go back later this year with a much stronger rocket car and shoot for Gabelich's existing mark of 622 miles an hour.

But in an exhibition run down the one-eighth mile strip at Charlotte, Anderson's slow down drag chute failed to open after a 248 m.p.h. run.

Top Grid Stars Join WFL

TORONTO (AP) — Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick — gears in the Miami Dolphins' grind-it-out offense — have jumped for an estimated $3.5 million to the Toronto Northmen of the World Football League, giving the fledgling league almost instant respectability.

"We're guaranteed this money," said Kiick after the signings, effective for the 1975 season and for three years, were disclosed Sunday. "If we get hurt, if we die, if the WFL doesn't get off the ground, we still get it."

The trio — Warfield is a receiver, the other two are running backs — will play out their 1974 options with the team which they helped win the last two National Football League championships.

Miami Coach Don Shula, however, said he might not even play the three this coming season. But Csonka discounted any reprisal by Shula, saying, "He wants to win the Super Bowl again and so do we."

Each earned about $50,000 last season as Dolphins, plus the extra money — $15,000 each in the Super Bowl — for playoff victories.

No breakdown on how the $3.5 million would be divided among the three was disclosed. Presumably, Csonka would get the most money.

Kiick said the other 11 teams in the WFL, which will begin play in July, contributed $1 million to the contracts, highest-priced deals ever in pro football history.

"I am disappointed, shocked, sick, whatever ...," a bitter Joe Robbie, managing general partner of the Dolphins, said in Miami Sunday night after the jump was announced in Toronto. "I feel (player agent) Ed Keating took three of our players to Canada who were in a frame of mind to come back and listen when they left."

But Robbie said the Dolphins weren't concerned about any legal action "at this point."

Csonka, who rushed for more than 1,000 yards the past three seasons, said his financial future was a primary consideration in the move.

"In this case, it is one of the considerations, of course," the bull-necked fullback said, "but there are others.... the Toronto club offered us more than we anticipated—even more than we had asked for in the exploratory package."

Robbie said he had asked Keating to return with the players from Toronto, where negotiating sessions took place, adding that the "$3 million wouldn't burn in two days." But, Robbie said Keating responded with a "take it or leave it" attitude and the Dolphin official refused to negotiate by phone.

"Everyone knows how I feel about them," Shula said. "They are great players. We were in a unique situation of being able to go after our third Super Bowl in a row next season. Our thought was to do everything possible to get everyone back."

Hitters Star In Exhibition Tilts

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer
The pitchers aren't ahead of the hitters any longer — most of them aren't, anyway.

Item: California strikeout king Nolan Ryan fanned eight Los Angeles batters in seven innings but also walked six and gave up six runs on seven hits — including Joe Ferguson's second home run in as many games — as the Dodgers whipped the Angels 8-4 Sunday in an exhibition baseball game. Lee Stanton of the Angels slammed a three-run homer off Al Downing.

Item: Mike Anderson, Willie Montanez and Mike Schmidt all homered off Pittsburgh's Dock Ellis as the Philadelphia Phillies trimmed the Pirates 9-5. It was enough to curl Ellis' hair as the Phillies pounded him for 11 hits and all nine runs in six innings. Anderson's home run was his fifth of the spring.

Item: Oakland's Catfish Hunter was raked for 11 hits and nine runs in four innings as the San Francisco Giants whacked the A's 13-4. Dave Kingman, Dave Rader, Gary Matthews and Jim Willoughby all contributed triples to the Giants' 18-hit attack while Tito Fuentes had three singles.

Item: The Kansas City Royals tagged Luis Tiant, Boston's 20-game winner, for eight hits and seven runs while the Red Sox tattooed Paul Splittorff, KC's 20-game winner, for six runs on nine hits. When the slugging was done, the Royals had a 9-6 victory.

Fran Healy, who doubled and tripled off Tiant, walloped a two-run homer off Rogelio Moret and finished with four runs batted in. Danny Cater and Cecil Cooper paced the Boston attack with three hits apiece.

Item: The Detroit Tigers whacked Don Gullett and Tom Hall for four runs apiece — Willie Horton drove in four — and downed the Cincinnati Reds 8-3. Horton socked a two-run double off Gullett and a two-run double off Hall.

Item: Milwaukee's Clyde Wright surrendered home runs to Cleveland's Charlie Spikes and Dave Duncan on consecutive pitches in the Brewers' 6-2 loss to the Indians.

Even the winning pitcher suffered. Cleveland's Jim Perry was struck on the back of his pitching hand by a line drive off the bat of George Scott and went to a hospital for X rays, which were negative.

Now before the pitchers' union files a grievance along the hitters with Marvin Miller, let it be known that there were some hurlers who upheld the honor of the fraternity.

Item: Pat Dobson pitched seven innings of one-hit ball and Graig Nettles drilled a two-run single to lead the New York Yankees to a 2-1 victory over the New York Mets.

Item: Bob Gibson of St. Louis tuned up for his 10th straight opening day assignment by yielding seven hits in as many innings as the Cardinals downed the Chicago White Sox 5-2.

Item: Montreal's Ernie McAnally hurled seven strong innings — he limited Baltimore to three singles and retired 10 straight batters at one stretch — and the Expos held on to edge the Orioles 6-5. Jim Lytle homered for the winners and Jim Fuller hit a three-run shot for the Birds. Elsewhere, Willie McCovey's second spring homer in the 10th inning gave the San Diego Padres a 4-3 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

Mike Easler's tie-breaking bases-loaded single in the ninth inning, his third hit, enabled the Houston Astros to nip the Texas Rangers 5-4. The Astros scored two runs when Texas outfielder Tom Grieve lost a routine fly ball in the glare of the Astrodome roof, which is in the process of being repainted.

Minnesota first baseman Jim Holt booted Dusty Baker's dribbler in the ninth inning, allowing two Atlanta runs to score and lifting the Braves to a 6-5 victory over the Twins. The Twins lost their seventh straight and are 3-20 for the exhibition season.

LE Track Team Set To Open Season

New track coach Asa Bradbury has 21 members hard at work as the Logan Elm Braves prepare for their season opener Saturday at the Fairfield Union Invitational.

It will be a senior dominated squad with Brad Luckhart, Scott Bower, Mark Hawks, Mark Fouch, Steve Sargent, Dan Ramey, Keith Weaver and Dale Frazier providing the leadership.

"We expect to have overall strength in the field events, middle distances and some sprints but must improve in the distances," coach Bradbury commented.

"Sargent, Luckhart and Hawks should provide the leadership we need, Duffey gives us a top 220 man, Luckhart will be strong in the pole vault, Eans is a good sprinter and King provides strength for us in the half-mile," Bradbury stated.

New runways and pits have been installed at the Logan Elm track.

Here is the Logan Elm schedule:

Wayne Zahn Wins Ebonite Tournament

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Wayne Zahn, who last week won his first Professional Bowlers Association crown in five years, takes his $10,000 earnings from the Ebonite Open Bowling Tournament to Akron this week for the final leg of the winter tour.

Zahn, a 33-year-old from Tempe, Ariz., won the $80,000 tournament here Saturday by a 199-170 score over Norm Meyers, St. Louis, Mo.

He joins other tournament titleholders and past winners at this week's $125,000 Firestone Tournament of Champions at Akron, the last leg of this season's tour.

Meyers, who took home $6,000, was disappointed with his runnerup position. It was the third time in the past four years that he placed No. 2 at Imperial Lanes here.

His only tournament victory on the tour was 11 years ago when he was 29 years old.

Last year and in 1971, Meyers lost the Ebonite crown to Dick Weber, his brother-in-law. Weber was a finalist in this year's tourney, but he later lost to Zahn in the five-man finale.

The last match was close during the opening frames, with neither bowler posting a double.

Whalers Top Nordiques In WHA, 3-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The regular season has ended for the Quebec Nordiques, but the pressure will continue for another week.

Quebec dropped the final game of its World Hockey Association schedule, 3-2 in overtime, to the New England Whalers Sunday afternoon and now must wait until the Chicago Cougars play their remaining two games to see if they've made the playoffs.

The Nordiques have 80 points and hold fourth place in the East Division, while fifth-place Chicago needs two points in its final games to displace Quebec and face New England in World Trophy first-round action.

Elsewhere in the WHA Sunday, the Edmonton Oilers defeated the Cougars 4-1; the Cleveland Crusaders trimmed the Jersey Knights 4-2; the Toronto Toros edged the Los Angeles Sharks 5-4; the Minnesota Fighting Saints topped the Houston Aeros 5-2, and the Winnipeg Jets dropped the Vancouver Blazers 4-3 in overtime.

Tom Webster scored with 2:40 remaining in the overtime to win the game for the Whalers. Mike Parizeau had tied it for Quebec with less than six minutes left in regulation play.

Opperman Wins

ROSSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Jan Opperman of Beaver Crossing, Neb., jumped off to the lead and held it all but four laps Sunday to take the second race of the United States Auto Club circuit at Eldora Speedway.

His victory put him in first place in USAC standings with an 81. He finished second last week in the season opener at Reading, Pa.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR MONDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Be explicit but not short in voicing opinions. There is a tendency now to belittle the aspirations and ideas of others. Curb!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Mixed planetary influences. You may alternate between quick, aggressive moves and periods of slowing down, for no apparent reason. Aim at stabilization.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Don't be coerced into anything that seems at all inappropriate, but do listen to all sides of a reasonable discussion. A good day for making agreements, long-range plans.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Planetary influences now indicate progress, quicker advancement. Emphasize your special ability to tie things up adeptly with little fanfare. Avoid extremes, however.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): You may have some difficulty in trying to produce in large quantity, in developing efficient methods, and in getting along with associates. Reexamine and rectify; even reorganize if necessary.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Some changing situations. Do not be dismayed. Accept them with your inborn adaptability and perceptiveness.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Don't abandon a project just because someone else may not be enthusiastic about it, but listen to their ideas anyway. There COULD be some angles you have overlooked.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Dealings with others may have their ups and downs: YOU remain serene and tolerant. Where things seem to be in a slump, use your imagination to inject new vigor.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Curb a tendency to be overly critical now. Don't look for flaws in every matter that comes up. Emphasize tolerance and steadiness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Familiar matters favored rather than new enterprises. You may encounter tense feelings in some areas. Keep your balance and look at the bright side of things.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Put inferences, conceded fact and other material together and scrutinize well; then you will be surer when you make decisions and move ahead.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): This will be a day calling for good judgment. Do not let unexpected situations ruffle you and do not let yourself be pushed into erroneous paths by the prodding of others.

YOU BORN TODAY are extremely energetic and highly enthusiastic about anything you undertake, but sometimes drop projects before you have given them a chance to prove themselves. You can achieve the spectacular in some areas; are ingenious, spontaneous, artistic. You could make a great success as a business leader, promotion expert or financier. If drawn to the arts, as you well may be, you will be highly individualistic—especially in music, painting or the theater. You are an extremist in anything you do and people tend to follow your lead so... Care! Birthdate of: Wm. Harvey, physician, discoverer of blood circulation; Debbie Reynolds, actress.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — "QB VII," a made-for-television movie based on Leon Uris' best-selling novel of the same name, will be with us for quite a while on ABC — the network says 6½ hours in all — next April 29 and 30.

Although record-setting wasn't what producer Douglas Cramer had in mind, he says it's the longest made-for-TV film ever aired, exceeding even NBC's four-part "Blue Knight" miniseries. Cramer, 42, who struck some kind of blow for candor by saying the show actually runs five hours and 20 minutes without commercials, titles and station breaks, said ABC never set any time limit for the movie.

The simple reason it's as long as it is, he said, is because Barry Diller, an ABC executive who commissioned it, felt that "a great many books have been ruined by being compressed arbitrarily for two or three hours of screen time." And Diller wanted to right this wrong. Since some miniseries have proved successful and TV audiences have shown they'll watch hit theatrical films even when these are aired over a two-night period, "why not buy books and do them (for TV) at whatever length they hold up?" Cramer said. He said Diller's instructions after "QB VII" was bought in April 1971 — the price was $250,000 — were simply: "Go write a script and let's see how long it takes to tell the story without truncating it."

See Higher Prices From Steel Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steel industry negotiators are beginning two weeks of hard bargaining in what is expected to result in a costly settlement for the industry and higher prices for consumers.

Bargainers for the Big 10 steel producers and the United Steelworkers of America face a self-imposed April 15 deadline to reach accord on a new contract or submit all unresolved issues to binding arbitration.

The talks get underway today with both sides anxious to avoid arbitration on major issues. A settlement is expected that is likely to follow the pattern shaped earlier this year in USW contracts with the aluminum and can industries.

USW President I.W. Abel has indicated he is seeking a wage increase above 10 per cent to "reflect at least increases in the cost of living plus productivity" for his 350,000 members employed by the 10 major steel-makers.

Barring unforeseen developments, all wage-price controls on the industry will be dropped by April 30, leaving producers free to pass on increased wages and benefits in the form of higher steel prices.

The bargaining is taking place under an historic "experimental negotiating agreement" signed a year ago which precludes strikes or lockouts and guarantees the workers a minimum wage increase of 3 per cent in each of the next three years. In addition, each worker will receive a one-time $150 bonus.

The no-strike agreement was reached in an effort to break the so-called "boom-bust" cycle that has characterized recent steel negotiations.

The current three-year contract, under which steel workers average $5.78 an hour in wages, expires Aug. 1.

If the aluminum and can settlements are extended to steel, wages in the industry would rise about 12 per cent, or 65 cents an hour, over the next three years, in addition to the nine per cent increase already agreed upon.

An improvement in the wage cost-of-living formula that added nearly 40 cents an hour to paychecks under the current contract also is expected.

But the main emphasis is expected in the pension area, where the union is seeking to duplicate a landmark pension program negotiated with the aluminum companies and later with the can producers.

That plan provided for the first time in an industrial package a partial cost-of-living escalator for retirees. It also lowered the full-pension retirement age from 65 years to 62.

Kennedy Leading 1976 Contender

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts still tops the popularity list of Democrats considered potential 1976 presidential candidates, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

Kennedy was preferred by 44 per cent of the rank-and-file Democrats questioned in the poll. Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace was second with 17 per cent.

A November 1973 survey showed Kennedy with a similar lead, 41 per cent to Wallace's 15.

Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington moved up from the earlier poll to tie with Sen. Edmund M. Muskie of Maine for third place. Jackson increased his standing from 6 to 8 per cent, while Muskie's popularity slipped a point from 9 to 8 per cent.

Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, the 1972 nominee, held his fifth position. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson Jr. of Illinois held sixth, Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana remained in seventh and Sen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota remained the eighth choice.

Food Giveaway Riddled By Theft

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Internal thefts and poor administration riddled the mass food giveaway aimed at ending Patricia Hearst's two-month captivity, says the community coalition named to monitor the handouts.

Washington Secretary of State A. Ludlow Kramer, who organized the People in Need program, denied the charges.

The coalition aired its complaints on KPFA radio here Sunday in a prepared statement read by seven representatives of San Francisco Bay area groups.

The speakers declared the $2 million PIN food program suffered from a "general lack of coordination," no regularly scheduled meetings, no defined lines of authority, erroneous news releases, no food checking system and transportation and warehouse troubles.

The Symbionese Liberation Army, which abducted Miss Hearst from her Berkeley apartment Feb. 4, named the coalition to monitor the giveaway it demanded as a precondition for Miss Hearst's release.

Kramer replied: "We have no intention of getting into a yelling match with the coalition. We did that for 35 days. I'm sorry the coalition is not concerned with trying to get Patty Hearst back, but only with themselves."

Regarding the so-called ripoffs, Kramer said 500 cases of chicken were stolen once. Oakland police located the food, he said, but couldn't retrieve it because the coalition refused to bring charges.

The SLA had requested in a taped communication that newspaper magnate Randolph A. Hearst distribute $70 of free food to California's needy. In response, Hearst and Kramer set up PIN, funded with $500,000 of Hearst's own money and $1.5 million from the William Randolph Hearst Foundation.

In its last communication, the SLA, believed to number about 25 members, accused PIN of handing out "hog feed." The giveaway was revamped and organizers declared last week that it had successfully met SLA demands after distributing 150,000 food parcels in five handouts. The final giveaway March 25 consisted of 35,000 boxes packed with meat and produce valued at $35 each wholesale.

Meanwhile, Patricia Hearst's parents continued their anxious vigil at their spacious home in Hillsborough, south of San Francisco, waiting for the SLA to break its 22-day silence.

On her way to church Sunday, Mrs. Hearst said: "It is all very depressing. It's pretty discouraging to a mother to have her daughter gone that long."

Judge Orders Cash Refund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A judge here has ordered a refund of $1.7 million to persons who don't work for the state but are members of the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System.

Common Pleas Court Judge Fred J. Shoemaker ruled the non-state employees are entitled to recover a portion of the contributions they made to the system between Jan. 1, 1973 and July 1973.

The money will go to 129,127 persons not employed by the state who belonged to the system at the time.

The system's board in September 1972 increased employee contributions by four-tenths of one per cent. It said at the same time, however, that the state of Ohio did not have to make its matching contributions for six months.

A judge later ruled state employees, too, could wait six months to pay the higher contributions, and the latest ruling gives the same break to non-state workers.

WORKING TOGETHER—The Circleville and Ashville Fire Departments and the Circleville and Ashville Jaycees are working together to save lives through Operation Red Ball. Both Jaycees organizations are distributing the Red Balls which are placed in the upper left hand corner of a window of a small child or invalid's window. In the event of an emergency, the firemen will look for the red ball saving time in saving lives. In the upper photo, from the left, are: Howard Kelly, president; Chief R. Featheringham and Tom Sampson, Chairman. Lower photo, Circleville firemen, Wayne Malott, Paul Vance, Chester Echard, Lt. Mike Brown and Bruce Bell, chairman, Circleville Jaycees.

Jaycees Kick-Off Operation Red Ball

The Circleville and Ashville Jaycees announced the Kick-off campaign of "Operation Red Ball 1974". The program is designed to save the lives of small children and invalids in the home, in the event of an emergency.

A small red ball decal is placed in the upper left hand corner of a window in the child's or invalid's room. If a fire or other emergency should occur, the local fire departments would know

Two Students Compete At Science Fair

Westfall High School students Myra Jean Horn and Rick Metzger will compete in the 1974 Thirteenth Central Ohio Regional Science Fair. The fair is co-sponsored by Columbus Laboratories of Battelle Memorial Institute and Otterbein College on April 5 and 6 in the Alumni Gymnasium of Otterbein, Westerville.

Myra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Horn, Route 3, Orient, will display a medicine and health project entitled "Positioning the Arms & Legs for X-Rays". Rick, son of Mr. Cooke Metzger, Route 2, Williamsport, will have an exhibit entitled "Geysers". Both projects are under the supervision of J. W. Wright.

The Central Ohio Regional Science Fair, affiliated with the International Science Fair, is administered by the Science Service of Washington, D.C. It promotes local, regional and state science fairs to increase scientific study by high school students. The fair provides awards for students whose projects are creative, scientific, thorough and of dramatic value as chosen by a board of judges.

Two regional winners, from the science fair at Otterbein, will be sent with their advisers to the International Science Fair at the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind., on May 5-11.

Note Big Increase In U.S. Burglaries

CHICAGO (AP) — Burglary is one of the most rapidly growing occupations in the United States, says James C. Miller.

He heads a firm that manufactures burglary-alarm devices and hires convicted burglars as consultants. The former convicts enlighten the firm on tricks of the burglary trade and how to thwart them.

Miller, president of Intermatic, Inc., says there may be as many as three million burglaries in the country this year. He theorizes the energy crisis may be promoting an increase in the crime.

"When you have a reduction in lighting, you have an increase in burglaries," Miller said in an interview.

The FBI reported that in 1972, the last full year for which complete figures were available, there were 2.34 million burglaries in the country. The burglary rate jumped 38 per cent in the five-year period from 1967 to 1972.

Miller said his firm's burglar-consultants "have told us a lot about how burglars operate and are able to inform customers of the best ways to discourage a burglar."

"There are two kinds of burglars," he said. "One is the kind you see on television and then there are all the rest."

Miller's consultants say they don't know the kind of burglar who uses electromagnets and helicopters to make dazzling jewel thefts. "If they exist, they probably never get caught," Miller said.

"All the rest are either selftaught or learned the trade in prison from other thieves," he says. He also says that burglars don't spend time staking out houses. "They simply walk through a neighborhood and when they spot a home where they believe nobody is home, they break in. The crucial time is between 6 p.m. and 11 p.m."

Burglars usually knock on doors and if someone turns out to be home they pose as a salesman who has the wrong address.

"A sure tip-off to the burglar is to see the same light burning all the time. Another is a perfectly cleaned house. If women would leave the bed messed up, we'd never have burglaries," he said.

Burglars are frightened most by noise, he says. "If you leave a radio on, a burglar rarely will enter a house."

Daylight burglaries also have increased, Miller said. "After all, most burglars wear suits and look just like businessmen. They don't go around in masks with their collars turned up."

A SURE WAY TO CUT FOOD COSTS

You're concerned about holding down your weekly food bills. Kroger shares your concern! But supermarkets have no control over the wholesale costs we must pay—and when those costs go up, they must eventually be reflected in retail prices.

There is a way you can cut your food bills right away . . . and without sacrificing quality or flavor. Food shopping experts across the nation recommend that you buy your supermarket's own brands. These offer quality equal to the nation's best-selling brands, yet are usually priced lower.

At Kroger, we offer several of our own fine brands. You'll see our own name, "Kroger," on most of them. Other high-quality Kroger brands include such familiar names as Country Club, Royal Viking, or Yubi. Strict specifications for these products call for quality equal to or better than the national brand most people buy.

And remember . . . every product sold at Kroger is Guaranteed Unconditionally. If you're not pleased, we'll replace it or give your money back. So why not try the Kroger Brands? You've nothing to lose and a lot to gain.

Kissinger, Bride Honeymoon

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Acapulco's social set awaited word today on whether the newlywed Kissingers were open to invitations. But Washington's most fabled swinger appeared intent so far on keeping a veil of privacy around his honeymoon.

Some 60 vacationers lined the Las Brisas dock Sunday and applauded as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and the former Nancy Maginnes returned from a three-hour cruise around choppy Acapulco Bay in a speedboat called El Orate — The Lunatic.

Two boatloads of Secret Servicemen trailed El Orate around the bay, then packed into two cars to follow Kissinger's limousine back to banker Eustaquio Escandon's secluded villa overlooking the sea where the couple is staying.

"I'm sure there will be some parties or at least a dinner or two while they're here," said a leading Acapulco socialite wistfully. But he added that the Kissingers had accepted no invitations yet.

"Every man when he gets married is entitled to have some privacy," said a State Department spokesman.

Only a handful of persons knew in advance of Kissinger's wedding Saturday, among them former New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Mrs. Kissinger's employer.

The former Miss Maginnes, who at almost six feet is noticeably taller than Kissinger, is head of international studies for Rockefeller's Commission on Critical Choices. She and Kissinger met 10 years ago when she enrolled in his foreign policy seminar at Harvard, and the professor recommended his pupil to Rockefeller as a foreign policy aide.

Despite the 50-year-old secretary's well-publicized appearances with glamorous stars and starlets, Miss Maginnes, 39, has been his frequent companion for years, and a marriage was rumored for months.

Kissinger broke the news to Rockefeller Saturday morning ("By the way, Nancy and I are getting married.") and Rockefeller later announced the wedding to a meeting of midwest Republicans.

The official announcement came from the State Department in the name of Mrs. Albert B. Maginnes of White Plains, N.Y., the bride's mother.

The wedding, attended by a handful of friends and relatives and Kissinger's two children by his previous marriage, took place before a judge in Arlington, Va. Rockefeller lent the newlyweds a jet for the trip to Acapulco.

Former Nixon Aide On Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jury selection began today for the trial of Dwight L. Chapin, charged with lying to a grand jury about the "dirty political tricks" activities of Donald H. Segretti.

U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard H. Gesell told a panel of 60 that the trial is expected to "not take more than a week or 10 days."

"I can assure you this is a firm estimate; it will not be a long trial," the judge said.

The jury of 12 and four alternates will be sequestered during the trial.

In the courtroom were Chapin's wife, Susan, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Chapin.

Chapin, former presidential appointments secretary, was indicted Nov. 29, 1973 on four counts of lying to a Special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski has said that ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III would be a key government witness against Chapin.

Dean, who pleaded guilty last October to conspiring to obstruct the investigation of the Watergate break-in, already has testified as a prosecution witness at the New York trial of former Cabinet members John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans.

Another key prosecution witness will be Segretti, who served five months in a federal correctional facility after pleading guilty to misdemeanor violations of federal election laws. Segretti was released last Monday.

Like Dean, Segretti agreed to cooperate with the special prosecutor's office.

Meanwhile, Vice President Gerald R. Ford has blasted the Committee For the Re-election of the President, describing it in a Chicago speech as an "arrogant, elite guard of political adolescents."

Ford spoke Saturday to more than 1,000 midwest Republicans, including GOP National Chairman George Bush and presidential hopeful Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois. The audience stood and cheered Ford's biting remarks about the re-election committee.

He said the committee "violated the historic concept of the two-party system in America and ran roughshod over the seasoned political judgment and experience of the regular Republican party organization in the 50 states. The fatal defect of CREEP was that it made its own rules and thus made its own ruin," he said.

Later, Ford told a news conference he "spoke as my own man," that his remarks had not been cleared with the White House.

In other Watergate developments, Percy said Sunday in New Haven he expects Nixon to be impeached this year. Meanwhile, sources in Washington said quiet preparations are underway in several Senate offices for a possible impeachment trial. The sources also said other studies are underway by individual senators.

The Chapin indictment said he testified April 11, 1973 before a grand jury investigating Segretti's activities.

Chapin told the grand jury he never discussed the distribution of campaign literature of any kind with Segretti and was unaware that Segretti ever distributed such literature.

The indictment alleged that Chapin's answers "as he then there well knew, were false."

Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

After he was indicted Chapin, 33, took a leave of absence from his job as director of market planning for United Air Lines.

A graduate of the University of Southern California, Chapin hired Segretti, a college chum, allegedly to be a Republican prankster in the 1972 campaign.

But Segretti's pranks included the distribution of literature that appeared to come from various candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination and accused others of misconduct. Distributing political literature which does not identify the source is a federal crime.

Before he joined the White House staff, Chapin met H. R. Haldeman when both were in the advertising business in California. He worked for Haldeman in the White House.

Rare Babies Celebrate

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Michelle and Angela Wright, two of the rarest babies on record, celebrated their first birthday Sunday.

Technically not twins although born at the same time, the baby girls were born from separate and independent uteri.

"It's been a special weekend for the babies and us," said the babies' mother, Lisa Wright, now 18.

The dual uterus births are so rare Dr. Stephen Hornstein said he's only been able to find records of one other such happening.

The two girls were premature and weighed less than five pounds at birth.

Pope Paul VI Fights Weakness, Continuing Pain

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI appears to have recovered from his second attack of influenza in a month, but Vatican sources say he is still weak, often in pain and needs a long rest.

The sources say the 76-year-old Pope is being strongly advised against resuming the full schedule of work and reading that, until a few weeks ago, ran from dawn until past midnight.

The Vatican did not elaborate on the Pope's illness last week except to say that it was a slight indisposition. The sources said it was a recurrence of the flu that hit him earlier in March.

The Pope ran a slight fever and canceled his weekly general audience on Wednesday. He did bless the crowd from his study, however.

On Sunday, the Pope spoke from the open window of the study to the crowd in St. Peter's Square. His voice was firm and he appeared fit.

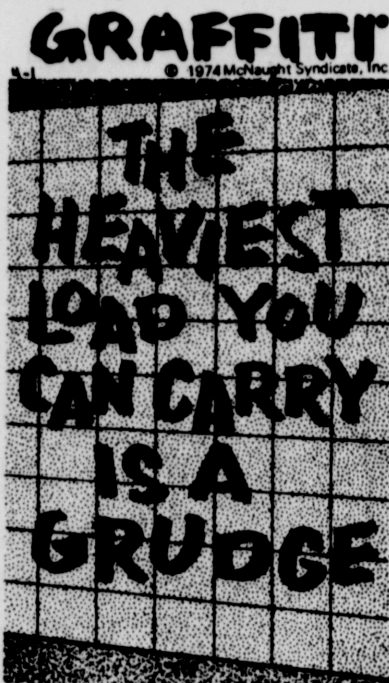

But the Vatican sources said the two flu attacks have aggravated an old and painful disease afflicting the joints. The disease, which the sources did not identify, reportedly is the reason why the pontiff, always frail, has for some years walked with a slight stoop and has needed help sitting down and standing up.

The influenza and pains in his joints are said to have sapped the Pope's strength, making him very weak, one source said. There is talk that he may be advised to take mud treatments at a spa, most likely on the island of Ischia, off Naples.

"If he doesn't rest," one prelate said, "the pains will never go away, and soon the slightest of movements will be difficult."

Some Vatican sources say doctors may even ask the Pope to delegate some of his functions to aides.

So far the pontiff has been a stubborn

Major Bills Face Ohio Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Campaign financing reforms, no fault auto insurance, and a bill establishing a state energy commission face Ohio's lawmakers today as they begin a three-day week leading to a month long recess.

Leaders said those are the major items but others may be considered by committee sessions and floor deliberations. The legislature will adjourn Wednesday and return May 8, the day after the primary election.

A joint conference committee is seeking to work out SenateHouse differences on the campaign financing bill. But it hit a snag at the first meeting last week that could produce an all out deadlock.

Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D—89 New Boston, said the House will not comply with Senate demands for language that would give new life to the political career of Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens, R—4 Middletown.

However, Riffe pointed out that the six-member conference committee is considering differences that do not include what has come to be known as "the Lukens amendment." He said "It wasn't in the Senate version and it wasn't in the House version. They are supposed to consider only the differences in the bill."

The House State Government Committee, in its deliberations, inserted language that would take care of Lukens' problem. However, Rep. Patrick A. Sweeney, D—6 Cleveland, who offered the amendment, said he also did it on behalf of about 600 other persons in Ohio under the same penalty, including about 350 in the Cleveland area.

Riffe indicated the dispute could kill the bill, noting that the House deleted the Sweeney amendment soundly when it reached the floor. "It could very well mean the life of the bill," he said. The Senate Financial Institutions, Insurance, and Elections Committee is expected to vote late today on a bill giving Ohio a no fault insurance law. It would mean that a motorist injured in an accident could collect from his own insurance company, no matter who was to blame, up to a limit of $1,500.

Leaders of both parties predict approval tonight by a joint subcommittee of a measure designed to deal with any existing or future energy crisis. The basics of the measure were agreed to last week by members of the panel headed by Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R—7 Cincinnati.

Under the proposal, there would be a five-member commission empowered to adopt rules and regulations for 30 days, but only by unanimous vote. It could issue a "public call" for a special session of the legislature under language currently in the bill.

The commission would be made up of the governor, two members of the legislature from opposing political parties, and a representative of the energy industry along with one member representing the public. The governor would act as chairman, and would be the spokesman for the state in energy matters involving the federal government.

Dispute Flares Over Vietnam Commitment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The extent to which the United States is committed by the Paris peace agreement to aiding South Vietnam has drawn varying interpretations from the secretary of state and the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger believes that the United States is politically and morally committed to giving long-term military and economic aid to South Vietnam.

Under the Paris agreement, Kissinger said in a letter to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., "The United States committed itself to strengthening the conditions which made the cease-fire possible and to the goal of the South Vietnamese people's right to self-determination."

However, Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., responded that the Paris "agreements aren't commitments, they are only a declaration of intent. They are not a moral or legal obligation until Congress passes them."

"The commitment is only an expression of policy of this administration," Fulbright added.

Kennedy also noted that the Paris agreement was never submitted to the Senate as a treaty for ratification and Kissinger, in his letter, acknowledged that the United States "has no bilateral written commitment to the government of the Republic of Vietnam."

"Rather than chart a new beginning, the administration's interpretation of the Paris agreement is perpetuating old relationships and continuing old policies, as if nothing had changed," Kennedy wrote.

Kissinger told Kennedy that with its commitments in mind the administration continues "to provide the Republic of Vietnam the means necessary for its self-defense and for its economic viability." He also said that the United States is obligated because of its long involvement in Vietnam and its national self-interests in achieving a stable government there.

Kennedy said the administration's Indochina programs will cost about $3 billion this year.

"In light of the pressing needs and inflation at home and other urgent priorities overseas, the administration's course in Indochina borders on fiscal irresponsibility and is contrary to the new directions set by Congress last year," Kennedy said in a statement.

Fulbright also commented that he felt that "we are overly committed in these foreign aid programs."

Marketbasket Survey Shows Some Price Dips

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The family grocery bill declined slightly during March, the first such drop in five months, an AP marketbasket survey shows.

More items went up in price than went down. But sales on meat and eggs cut the dollar value of the marketbasket in nine of 13 cities checked, with an average decrease of 2.2 per cent. It was the first month since October that marketbasket declines outnumbered increases.

The AP priced 15 food and nonfood items in 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month.

The latest check showed that 32.3 per cent of the items in the survey went up in price during March, 1974; 23.6 per cent decreased; 36.4 per cent were unchanged; and 7.7 per cent were unavailable on one of the two survey dates.

The marketbasket decreases ranged from a fraction of a per cent in Albuquerque, N.M., to 4 per cent in Boston where the price of a pound of chopped chuck dropped from $1.49 to $1.09.

The bill was up in four cities — Seattle, Wash., New York, Miami and Philadelphia — with an average increase of 1.6 per cent.

Prices in every city were higher at the beginning of April 1974 than they were on March 1, 1973. The marketbasket bill was up an average of 13.3 per cent over the 13-month period, with increases ranging from 6 per cent in Los Angeles to 25 per cent in Philadelphia.

Meat sales helped cut the bill. All-beef frankfurters, for example, declined in 11 cities during March and stayed the same in two. The average decline was 9 per cent. The average price for a pound of allbeef franks on March 1, 1973, was $1.09. On March 1, 1974, the average price was $1.35 and on March 30, 1974, it was $1.24.

Eggs decreased in 10 cities, down four or five cents to about 75 cents a dozen in most places. The price increased in two cities, New York and Detroit, and was unchanged in Philadelphia.

Chocolate chip cookies were up in 12 cities during March, rising an average of 5 per cent. They were unavailable in one city. The average price of a 14½-ounce bag of cookies was 61 cents on March 1, 1973; 75 cents on March 1, 1974; and 79 cents on March 30, 1974, for an over-all increase of 30 per cent.

Sugar was up at the retail as well as the wholesale level. A five-pound bag of granulated sugar that cost an average of 68 cents on March 1, 1973, cost $1.00 12 months later and was up to $1.17 in the latest survey, for an overall increase of 72 per cent. Sugar went up in all 13 cities during both February and March, with an average March increase of 17 per cent.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, pork chops, frozen orange juice, coffee, paper towels, butter, eggs, peanut butter, detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, frankfurters and sugar.

The cities covered by the survey were: Atlanta, Albuquerque, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Providence, R.I., Philadelphia, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Seattle.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices stabilized in the stock market today after last week's sharp drop.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 5.87 at 852.55, but declines clung to a narrow lead over advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the losses of the last three sessions had attracted some bargain hunters, but high short-term interest rates were continuing to inhibit chances of a rally.

Uris Buildings was the NYSE volume leader, up 1/4 at 14 1/4 after a 90,000-share block traded at that price.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .06 at 96.31.

Metals issues, except for golds, were mostly higher, and autos recorded fractional gains.

The Amex volume leader was Coleman Co., down 3/4 at 9 3/4. A 30,900 share block of the issue traded at 9 1/2.

Energy Pinch Job Losses Hit 500,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fuel shortages have cost nearly 500,000 Americans their jobs, Labor Secretary Peter J. Brennan has told Congress. However, unemployment will be reduced substantially once petroleum supplies return to normal, Brennan said Friday in a report.

Between 125,000 and 200,000 workers, most of them employed at service stations or by the airlines, lost their jobs during the five-month Arab oil embargo as a direct result of U.S. energy shortages, he said.

Another 300,000 workers were thrown out of work in industries affected indirectly by the energy crisis, as consumer demand declined for such products as automobiles, boats, aircraft and recreational vehicles and such services as hotels and amusements, he said.

The nation's unemployment rate was 4.6 per cent of the work force in October, but rose steadily to 5.2 per cent in January as the oil embargo took hold. It remained steady in February, surprising economists who had predicted a further increase.

Brennan said the impact of energy shortages should ease in the coming months and that any negative impact will be due mainly to higher fuel prices rather than scarcities.

The search for alternative energy sources and increased dependence on domestic fuels is expected to spur the creation of new jobs, the secretary added.

Sirica Makes Fashion List With Ford

NEW YORK (AP) — Judge John J. Sirica and industrialist Henry Ford II are included in a list of best-dressed men for the year.

The Fashion Foundation of America announced the results after competing its 35th survey of custom tailors and designers in search of the sartorial trendsetters.

The fashion experts came up with well-dressed men in 11 different fields. Sirica, who has presided over many Watergate hearings in the U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C., won the honors in the judicial field.

Ford, chairman of the board and prime mover of the Ford Motor Company, led in the business category. The Shah of Iran was named the best-dressed statesman.

Others in the current list and the categories they were cited in were:

Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon — government; former New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay — civic affairs; Johnny Carson — television; golfer Doug Sanders — sports; Penthouse magazine publisher Bob Guccione — communications; actor Robert Redford — screen; actor Henry Fonda — stage, and Lou Puro, board chairman of El San Juan Hotel, San Juan, Puerto Rico — host.

Engine Fire Reported At GE Plant

The Circleville Fire Department dispatched to the General Electric plant early Sunday morning to extinguish a fire in an electrical motor. Lt. Mike Brown said the fire had been caused by an obstruction in a turbine which caused five belts to burn up and part of the engine to freeze.

An undetermined amount of damage was caused by the 6:20 a.m. fire reported by one of the watchmen. Brown said most of the fire was out by the time he reached the scene but smoke was still coming from the damaged engine.

Mariner Hunts Mercury Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A tiny moving object which scientists say may be a moon circling Mercury has thus far eluded Mariner 10's powerful cameras, despite an intensive space search.

The cameras scanned the neighborhood of Mercury on Sunday, seeking the mysterious object which was detected by the probe's ultraviolet instruments.

"It is clear that there is a strong source of radiation detached from Mercury and in apparent motion relative to the planet," said Dr. M.E. McElroy of Harvard University.

Mariner, speeding away from Mercury and already more than a million miles from the planet, conducted the moon hunt despite an electrical problem that threatened to silence the 1,100-pound probe.

Man Arrested After Wreck

A Jackson man was arrested Saturday for driving while intoxicated after a one-car accident on Route 23. James E. Cohan, 30, was southbound on Route 23 at 4:35 p.m. when he drove off the roadway onto the berm just north of the Ross County line.

According to the report taken by Ptl Lowell B. Hardesty of the State Highway Patrol, Cohan continued slowly south until his vehicle hit a road sign. He was advised to consult his family physician for possible injuries.

Investigation of the accident is still being conducted by Ptl. Hardesty.

Open Letter

Dear Friends,

It is well to pause sometimes and think how one will feel when a loved one is no longer among us. It may cause us to realize the little acts of kindness and attention we should be giving now — rather than to suffer remorse for neglect of a loved one after he has departed this world.

Respectfully,

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Charles Not Your Prince Charming

DEAR ABBY How can I meet Prince Charles? I have always admired him, and it has been my dream to meet him one day, but I'm not having any luck.

I've written him several letters, and each time his secretary has answered, saying: "The Prince of Wales regrets that he is unable to meet you."

I am a normal, intelligent 20-year-old college girl. I'm told I am pretty and have a pleasing personality. I've read everything I could find about the royal family in general and Prince Charles in particular. I'll bet I know more about the family than most people living in England and the rest of the United Kingdom.

I hope you don't think I'm crazy, but I have even taken horseback riding lessons, and I plan to take flying lessons when I can afford it because I know those are Prince Charles' favorite sports. Also, if we ever meet I will have something to talk about.

Abby, you're supposed to have all the answers Can you help my dream come true?

CATHY IN BROOKLYN

DEAR CATHY: Sorry, but I don't have the answer to this one. Dreaming is alright but we have to live in the real world. So, wake up, Cathy. Your "Prince Charming" could be someone you've already met-in a Brooks

ONLY PAPIER—Lori Pritchard and Kym Gerhardt are shown with a papier mache skeleton they made for demonstration of the skeletal structure. Other projects included a papier mache heart and dissection of an animal brain, eye, heart and spinal cord. Mrs. Sandra Henn is the teacher.

Church Class Plans Activities

The New Holland United Methodist Young Adult Class held its March meeting at the church, following a pot-luck supper, with eight members and children present.

Nancy Kirk, president, called the meeting to order reading an Easter poem entitled, "Ring Easter Bell". Joyce Conrad, treasurer, and Lynda Conrad, secretary, gave their reports which were approved.

Class members voted to purchase two Easter Lillies for the Easter service to be donated to two church members after the service. The class also decided to purchase the Mother's Day flowers.

Other business included the selection of July 15 as the date for the Ice Cream Social and finalization of plans for the Adult Appreciation Supper.

The program committee for April is Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Bielanow, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coil.

Brothers suit with a Brooklyn accent, yet!

DEAR ABBY: Please settle a family argument. My husband, who is 43, told our daughter, who is 17, that she that she was "filling out" nicely-then he asked her what her bra size was.

Our daughter became embarrassed, blushed, and said she didn't want to tell him. I came to her defense and said that the question was a personal matter, and I didn't think it was anything her father had to know.

He became angry and said that he was her father and had a right to know! Our daughter was nearly in tears, and I ended the discussion by siding with her, and that is where we left it.

Now my husband is upset with both me and my daughter. Abby, do you think that was a proper question for a father to ask his 17-year-old daughter?

OLD FASHIONED MOM

DEAR MOM: No! Your budding daughter's bra size is none of Dad's business. And while we're on the subject of measuring things, I wonder what your husband's I.Q. is?

DEAR ABBY: I am 35, happily married, and the mother of three. My husband and I enjoy a glass of wine with our dinner. We never become intoxicated or anywhere near it.

My grandparents strongly disapprove of alcoholic beverages, so out of respect to them I never serve it in their presence.

I had eight other guests for dinner, but because my grandparents were here, I omitted the wine, even though my husband and I, my parents, and the other guests would have enjoyed some.

When my husband and I are dining in my parent's home, they always serve wine, but if the grandparents drop in unexpectedly, everyone rushes around hiding the wine bottle and glasses.

I don't want to hurt my grandparents, but I wonder if this is the proper way to handle the wine situation?

ASKING

DEAR ASKING: Since you and your parents ordinarily enjoy wine at dinner, I think it is unnecessary to ditch the wine when the disapproving grandparents unexpectedly drop in. You're probably not fooling them anyway.

Dr. Anderson Retains AAFP Membership

Francis W. Adnerson, M.D., of Circleville, has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice in 1969. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

Comprehensive drug reform legislation was approved 88-3 by the Ohio House and sent to the Senate this week.

The 114-page bill would reduce penalties for most first-offenders convicted of possessing or using drugs. However, mandatory jail terms would be imposed for pushers convicted of trafficking in bulk amounts of drugs.

A new emphasis would be placed on treatment and rehabilitation of drug users by the measure. Treatment in place of conviction would be permitted for some drug users.

Drug use and the crime that is often connected with it is one of the major problems facing our society. This reform bill will be a major step forward in dealing with the problem.

The House and Senate have each stood firmly on their respective versions of campaign financing legislation. This week the measure was sent to a conference committee composed of both senators and representatives to work out a compromise.

The bill passed by the House makes great improvements in Ohio's present campaign financing law. A major feature of the legislation is a provision opening to the public before the election the amount and source of all contributions to a candidate or his political committee.

Most legislators are optimistic that the conference committee will agree on strong legislation that will be acceptable to both houses.

The House approved legislation this week allowing all senior citizens over 62 years of age to vote by absentee ballot.

Notarization of an absentee ballot is required under present law. The legislation approved by the House would abolish this procedure but would require the voter's signature declaring that all statements made on the ballot were true.

If the Senate agrees to House changes in the bill, the legislation will go to the Governor for his signature. The measure could take effect in time for the November general elections.

Over 120,000 Ohioans would be affected by the bill.

Distribution of the application forms for the Ohio Vietnam veterans bonus will be made through the veterans' county service officers of all 88 counties. It's hoped the application forms will be distributed before the end of May.

There will be two forms used for application, one for living veterans and the other for the next-of-kin of deceased veterans. An original certificate of separation (DD Form 214) need not be submitted but a copy, which must be the same size as the original, will be accepted. The copy need not be certified or notarized.

Eligible veterans may opt for the educational benefits, but once this decision is made it is irrevocable.

Ultimate Power Source

Picture a motorist of the future filling his car's fuel tank with his garden hose — attached to his water spigot. Some Variation of that may be possible, but not before the year 2000, and probably much later. This was the confidence expressed by the 700 delegates attending the first international meeting on water as a source of energy.

Sponsored by the University of Miami, the conference drew participants from 20 nations. The object was to discuss problems which lie in the way of extracting hydrogen from water and thereby producing an almost limitless energy source.

One of the problems mentioned was the chicken-and-egg dilemma, the possibility that a hydrogen-powered vehicle might have to wait for fuel facilities, and the facilities might not be built until the vehicles exist.

But that's a minor problem.

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The new pocket-sized magazine, Science Digest, takes a swing at the nuts, faddists and even some members of the priesthood who tend to accept the "Exorcist" movie and a mounting volume of books and magazine articles on the "casting out of devils" as biblically rooted.

"Unlike many Catholic priests, I do not believe there is a single case of real possession in the Gospels, nor do I believe that Jesus Christ or his disciples were exorcists," writes Fr. Juan B. Cortes, S. J., professor of psychology at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. "The verb 'exorcise' is in fact nowhere employed in the New Testament," adds the Spanish-born Jesuit who earned his theology doctorate at Boston University and his psychology doctorate at Harvard.

"Reported 'demons' are often the outward sign of organic brain damage, epilepsy, neurosis or psychosis — problems that can be treated today without resorting to religious cant," his broadside in "Science Digest" propounds. From his experience in personal counseling, he has concluded that 'demons,' as defined today, are figments of over-active or sick minds.

"For many who imagine themselves possessed, the real world is so painful they turn inward to delusion. There are many studies showing that of patients in mental hospitals receiving no therapy whatsoever, about 70 per cent get over their illness — or show vast improvement — within two years.

"It's called spontaneous remission. And it can happen to 'possessed' people whether there is no therapy at all or rituals that may drag on for years."

There are somewhat similar misgivings and misinformation in connection with the pleas for and against amnesty for the young men who fled the U.S. to avoid military service during the Vietnam War or, having donned uniform, deserted.

The opposing lines are firm: "We of the American Legion firmly believe that giving any wholesale amnesty would make a mockery of the sacrifices of those men who did their duty, assumed their responsibilities in time of conflict and — in some cases — were killed or seriously wounded," past National Commander James F. O'Neil told the House Judiciary Committee not long ago. President Nixon has taken the same stand on a number of occasions, and has been both damned and applauded.

Organizations and individuals favoring amnesty present sometimes touching and historic evidence to support their position: the parable of the Prodigal Son, the fact (or legend) that Lincoln's last written order pardoned a deserter, Japan's amnesty for 1,300,000 persons believed guilty of actively opposing World War II, and President Truman's compassion for several thousand World War II dodgers.

Jim O'Neil, lone survivor of Truman's amnesty board, hurled no righteous demands at the committee, though he did remind it — in passing — of George Washington's dictum of 1783: "It may be laid down as a primary position and the basis of our system, that every citizen who enjoys the protection of a free government, owes not only a portion of his property, but even of his personal services to the defense of it."

He spoke of "that difficult line between the dictates of the law and the charity our moral heritage demands," but summarized his opponents' views in this way:

"Proponents of amnesty fall into two categories. One group advocates unconditional amnesty for all military deserters and draft evaders. This group reasons that the Vietnam conflict was an immoral war for the United States; that those who recognized this and followed their conscience ought not suffer any legal penalties for being right while their country was wrong; and, therefore, amnesty should be a blanket recognition of this."

O'Neil, long-time editor of the Legion's magazine, added, "Some spokesmen for this view go so far as to advocate full veterans rights and pensions for deserters and evaders for their so-called sufferings in Canada, Sweden and elsewhere. The second group of proponents offer amnesty to draft evaders but not to military deserters, provided that draft evaders prove their sincerity by performing alternate service for their country."

The Legion's recommendation: that all draft evaders be prosecuted. "We would like each case to be heard in court, and tried on its merits. The courts can deal with the particulars of each case, and exercise leniency or sternness, based on the actual facts brought out in hearings about each particular draft evader. Surely the courts will find some who are innocent, and some who should be excused without any further conditions." Estimates place the potential number of such defendants at 70,000. If all responded, the trials would still be going on long after Watergate is indecently interred with Teapot Dome.

Final moralizing for the day: Neat little sign in the rear of a New Jersey church. It reads: "Judas was the first person to leave mass early."

Bush Sees Party Revival

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Despite three Republican losses in special Congressional elections, National Republican Chairman George Bush says a GOP victory in California brought back the fighting spirit.

Bush said Saturday his greatest challenge will be to build party muscle strong enough to fight off the threat of another independent presidential campaign committee.

But the Republican party was not so battered by Watergate that the whole ship will sink, he said.

And the party chief believes President Nixon will stay in office.

"I think resignation is a non-answer," he said at a news conference before addressing an appreciation dinner for U.S. Rep. Clarence Miller, R-Ohio.

Bush said an impeachment trial would be a better way to get to the truth publicly, but speculated the U.S. House will bypass impeachment.

Bush said the GOP has a greater number of talented candidates for the 1976 Presidential race than the Democrats.

He referred to the single California victory as a "one-game winning streak," saying it counterbalanced a loss the same day in Cincinnati.

expand the joint project and build more of the big, needle-nosed planes.

British Industry Minister Anthony Wedgwood Benn is meeting today in Paris with Aymar Achille-Fould, the French secretary of state for transport, to discuss the Concorde's future. French officials have said they plan to go through with the program despite the British hesitation and growing disaffection among the French public.

When conceived in the 1960s, the Concorde was enthusiastically backed by the French people. But a poll last week showed that 45 per cent of those asked favored abandonment of the plane to cut down government spending.

The two governments are spending an estimated $2.3 billion to develop a plane that by 1976 will be carrying only about 100 passengers from London to New York in 3½ hours.

The plane now costs about $60 million each to build, and the British Aircraft Corp. and Aerospatiale have 16 of them in the works. But only nine have been sold — to British Airways and Air France, which means that the British and French governments are selling them to themselves.

Commercial airlines have dropped more than 20 options to buy. A secret French government report is said to estimate that no more than 33 of the planes can be sold on the world market. The rising cost of jet fuel has added to the airlines' doubts that they can make a profit on Concorde travel.

Plane Crashes; 2 Persons Killed

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Two men died Sunday afternoon when their single engine aerobatic training plane crashed near Xenia.

The Ohio Highway Patrol identified the victims as Brian Houston and Scott Norman Dillon.

The patrol said the crash occurred about 5 p.m. The plane hit the ground vertically. The engine was buried by the impact.

Big Price Hike For Bananas

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — Standard Fruit Co. says it probably will suspend banana exports from this Central American country for several weeks because of the effects of a new export tax on the market.

The 1.0 to 2.5 cents per pound tax is expected to raise retail banana prices in the United States from 16.5 to 20 cents a pound. It was agreed upon this month by seven Latin American banana-producing countries and is to go into effect April 15.

Four Standard officials said they believed the demand for bananas would decline at least temporarily as it did when the prices of other fruits increased.

Guatemala, Costa Rica, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Colombia and Ecuador decided on the tax.

"Harold, are these your peak earning years, or do we still have something to look forward to?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have had a fibroid tumor of my womb for many years. The doctor has been watching it at regular intervals, and I have not been concerned about it. Recently, a friend intimated that these tumors can become malignant. Since then, I have not had a restful night's sleep.

Mrs. M.W., La.

Dear Mrs. W.:

The friend would have been a better friend if she did not impose her misinformation on you.

From a strict scientific and medical point of view, it is true that certain tumors, when overlooked and neglected, can become malignant or cancerous. This technical fact, however, does not apply to you.

The tumor of your uterus has rightfully been kept under observation by your own doctor. Had the tumor suddenly become enlarged, or had there been any unusual type of prolonged menstrual bleeding, you can be certain that your own doctor would have suggested surgical removal.

It was unfair to implant such an unnecessary fear into your psyche. After you have my reassurance, you should, of course, be examined at this time to definitively blot out your present anxiety.

Is an angiogram a dangerous procedure in a person past fifty? How is it done?

Mr. F.P., Kan.

Dear Mr. P.:

Angiograms are one of a group of many techniques that are now in use for learning all about the conditions of the blood vessels of the neck, the brain, the heart, the abdomen, and of the arms and legs. By a complicated technique, special dyes are injected into the bloodstream and then followed by X-rays as the dye passes through the entire circulatory system.

There is a moderate risk to every procedure. When an angiogram is suggested, the advantages are carefully balanced against the disadvantages. If any special risks are apparent, the procedure is usually postponed. Certainly the age of 50 is not the criterion for or against the use of this valuable adjunct to modern diagnosis.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

The following letter has been sent to each member of the Circleville Board of Education. I am sending it to you as a point of public information. The subject of this letter will be dealt with at a private board meeting on Wednesday noon, April 3. It might be helpful if other members of the community, who feel as I do, would contact the board before this meeting.

Dear Board Member,

I am writing to tell you that there are a great many people in our community who are absolutely appalled by the coverage of the last school board meeting, which was released to WNRE and the Circleville Herald. The terse, unfeeling statement made about Walter Sale renders any future action taken by the board relatively unimportant in comparison. However, such action must and will be taken. I urge that it be done with full consideration of the intelligence and ability of Mr. Sale, as well as the loyal and devoted service he has given to CHS.

Mr. Sale is a gentleman — in the full sense of the word — gentle man. Many of the problems he has encountered in our school system have been due to the fact that we have failed to instill in our children a sense of respect for creative intelligence when not accompanied by brute force. To label Mr. Sale as inefficient is shocking and untrue. To label our children as insensitive, our parents as permissive and our administration as dogmatic might be more apt. I implore you, as school board members, representing our community, to address yourselves to this matter with the utmost care and concern. Thank you.

SINCERELY,
TRUDY R. YATES

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this time to express my sincere thanks for the past support that the Pickaway County Easter Seal Society has given me. Over a year and a half ago I had a motorcycle accident that left me a paraplegic. The society came to my aid and purchased a wheelchair for me and has made repairs on my chair when needed.

With these services I have been able to adjust my life to attend college and to participate in Ohio Wheelchair Sports as a member of the Buckeye Wheelers.

This has helped me to overcome my disability when I know that such an organization exists a person doesn't realize what it means to be healthy and not have to go through all the pain and worries that go along with being handicapped.

If you've tossed your Easter Seals in the waste basket, I urge you to reconsider. The society ranks third in the nation for helping people. Only you can make it possible for these services for children and adults to continue in Pickaway County. Please take the time to send your donation to this worthy cause.

Thank you,

Dear Editor:

The following letter was sent to Representative William H. Harsha from the Sophomore Class at Logan Elm High School.

This is a letter in regard to the questionnaire you submitted to the public on the fate of our president.

Some of our sophomore geography and history classes took polls on this questionnaire you submitted. The following results were tabulated: 14-Impeachment; 10-Resignation; 86-Remain in Office.

Here at Logan Elm we feel that the minority are the ones bending our strong government structure. We have come to realize it is our duty as the majority to speak up.

We have come to conclude that there are several factions which are launching an attack on the presidency and the United States.

Among these is the fact that 90 per cent of all media in the United States uses destructive criticism. They have tried the President in the press instead of in the court, where he should be tried. Their liberal opinion has degraded the presidency.

Mr. Nixon squelched these Liberals with the ending of the Viet Nam War. They had been complaining and demonstrating for almost a decade. But no, now they have to find something else about which to complain.

Another faction that is attacking the presidency is an opposing force that could not take the defeat in the 1972 election. This group is constantly harassing the President and this is bad; it should not be this way in a Democratic process.

Finally, impeachment or resignation could be damaging. The United States is strong now, but what would it be without a leader? How would other countries look upon us?

We need the respect of these countries to remain number one. We are not going to do it with "Watergate" and impeachment.

We thank you for the fine representation and hope that this letter will affect your thinking. After all, we are tomorrow's leaders.

Thanking you,
DANNY STEVENS

State Candidates Won't File Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Seven candidates for statewide office have declined to take part in a Common Cause project for voluntary filing of campaign disclosure statements, the citizens' lobby announced Friday.

Heading the list of those declining to participate is former Gov. James A. Rhodes, who is seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination, according to Genay A. Hess of Columbus, the group's publicity coordinator.

Others are gubernatorial candidates Bert Dawson Jr., Republican, and James D. Nolan, Democrat; lieutenant governor aspirant Anthony O. Calabrese and William M. O'Neill, both Democrats; Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Republican seeking re-election, and George C. Smith, candidate for the GOP nomination for attorney general.

Hess said 11 candidates have filed the statements and 12 others indicated they will do so before the April 27 deadline.

Common Cause said the following candidates filed:

Democrats for lieutenant governor — J. W. Brown, Richard F. Celeste, Don L. Hanni, and Lucille Huston.

Republican for attorney general — Stanley J. Aronoff.

Democrat for attorney general — William J. Brown.

Teamsters Try To Wipe Out Cesar Chavez Farm Union

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Teamsters Union is spending as much as $100,000 a month in a new campaign to sign up farm laborers and wipe out Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers of America union, the Los Angeles Times reported Friday.

Teamsters officials, who formerly dealt almost exclusively with growers, are now meeting with the field workers themselves to try to convince them that the Teamsters have more to offer, the newspaper said.

Other representatives of the nation's largest union are fanning out across the country in an effort to counter the UFW's boycott against grape and lettuce growers who have Teamster contracts.

Public relations experts have been hired to try to improve the image of the union, which often has been pictured as a Goliath against Chavez' David in the longstanding dispute.

"Chavez is through," says Cono Mecias, chief supervisor for the Teamsters' Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee. "The workers are through with him. His future looks bad."

The United Farm Workers still draw large crowds at rallies but membership is down to about 10,000 from a high of more than 50,000 several years ago. More and more growers are signing with the Teamsters.

But Chavez told the Times he is still confident his union will prevail.

"Normally, a small, struggling union like ours would have been destroyed by the combined opposition of a powerful union whose president

Democrat for treasurer — Gertrude W. Donahey.

Gov. John J. Gilligan was among a dozen other candidates who told Common Cause they would file disclosure statements prior to the May primary.

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown reported the largest figures, saying they cover the period dating back to January 27, 1972. He listed contributions of $236,055 and expenditures of $77,871.65.

State Treasurer Gertrude W. Donahey reported no receipts and no expenditures but said she would file a report when she has organized her committee. She is without primary election opposition.

Celeste reported he has raised $36,441, with major contributions coming from the United Auto Workers union and his parents, while Hall listed receipts totaling $23,861. Celeste and Hall each reported $15,000 donations from the UAW.

Aronoff said he has received about $22,663 and spent most of it. Huston reported contributions of $8,335; J. W. Brown $150, and Roger Tracy Jr. $6,354.

Vesco Witness Admits To Lies

NEW YORK (AP) — The government witness whose testimony at the Mitchell-Stans conspiracy trial has been most damaging to former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans has admitted he lied under oath five times before the trial began.

"Are you lying now to avoid prosecution?" a defense lawyer demanded of the witness, George Bradford Cook, 36. He quit last May 17 after 10 months as chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

"I'm not lying now," Cook told the U.S. District Court jury Friday, as the trial of Stans and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell on charges of conspiracy, obstructing justice and perjury ended its sixth week. The prosecution is nearing the end of its case.

The two men who quit the cabinet to head President Nixon's re-election campaign are accused of impeding an SEC investigation of financier Robert L. Vesco in return for Vesco's secret cash contribution of $200,000 to Nixon's campaign, of concealing the contribution and of lying to the grand jury about it.

Cook is the son of a wealthy Nebraska banker whose friendship with Stans helped him get his SEC post. Cook testified that Stans spoke to him many times about the SEC probe of Vesco's financial empire before a massive fraud suit was filed against Vesco on Nov. 27, 1972. Vesco was indicted with Mitchell and Stans but has fled the country and is a fugitive.

Cook said Stans caused him to eliminate reference to Vesco's campaign contribution from the civil fraud complaint and also tried to stop the filing of transcripts of testimony which would have revealed the contribution.

In addition, he said that Stans had admitted to him that he had lied to the grand jury and had tacitly suggested that Cook do the same.

Under questioning by Asst. U.S. Atty. John R. Wing, Cook admitted he had lied on his first two appearances before the grand jury. Then, he said, he told Stans he was going to "tell it like it was" and told the truth on his third grand jury appearance.

But under questioning by defense lawyers Walter Bonner and Peter Fleming Jr., Cook admitted he had also lied on his third appearance. Cook admitted that he had also lied in three appearances before Congressional committees, twice under oath.

He said one of his lies was in telling a

Senate committee the SEC complaint against Vesco was slated for redrafting before its details were made known to Stans.

Cook said he also might have lied during two White House interviews, one with Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. and another with presidential counsel Leonard Garment.

Bonner asked Cook why he had lied. "Was it out of respect for Mr. Stans? Affection for Mr. Stans? Loyalty to the Republican party? Loyalty to the President? Because Mrs. Stans was ill at the time and almost died in November?"

Judge Lee P. Gagliardi sustained a government objection and would not let Cook answer.

But when Wing, the government lawyer, got another crack at Cook, he

Food Prices May Decline This Spring

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 4 per cent drop in raw farm product prices in late winter may mean some springtime bargains for food shoppers, but choices may be limited.

The decline, reported Friday by the Agriculture Department, covered all farm products and included many items which do not go directly into groceries such as corn, soybeans and hay.

But meat animals, one of the most important consumer categories, showed a price drop of 8 per cent from Feb. 15 to March 15. Some of those products, especially beef, already have shown up as lower priced specials at retail counters.

Even so, farm prices frequently are volatile. They gyrated wildly last summer, after the Nixon administration eased store price curbs, and then declined for three months before starting another round of increases that lasted most of the winter.

However, the report Friday included a hint that retail food price increases may be slowing. As of March 15, it said, food prices paid by farm families were up 1.5 per cent from a month earlier.

Although USDA economists say the report's food price figure is not as reliable as other government statistics gathered specially for that purpose, it did give some idea that consumers saw supermarket price gains slow a bit in March.

Here is why: a month ago, a similar farm price report said food prices went up 4.0 per cent from Jan. 15 to Feb. 15. When the Bureau of Labor Statistics issued its February prices for store-bought food, those were shown to have risen 3.0 per cent.

In addition to the downturn in meat animal prices, the farm report Friday also showed consumers might expect some other breaks.

asked: "Why did you lie?"

Gagliardi at first sustained a defense objection. But he changed his mind after the prosecution argued, with the jury out of the room, that "the government should be allowed to rehabilitate a witness whose credibility has been attacked."

Finally allowed to answer, Cook said he had lied for two basic reasons.

"Number one, as a result of my conversations with Mr. Stans and, number two, I did not want to bring any discredit or dishonor to the commission as to the fact that I had these conversations with Mr. Stans."

Pickaway Senior Center Meeting Attended By 200

Over 200 persons attended the monthly social meeting of Pickaway Senior Center held Thursday in the Parish House of Trinity Lutheran Church. Morning activities consisted of visiting, playing cards and other table games.

Tom Spittler and two technicians from the Ohio Diabetes Assn. in Columbus gave free diabetes tests to 325 people. Last year 191 persons took advantage of this opportunity.

At noon, members of the Kitchen Band served homemade bean soup with ham, corn bread and cole slaw. Birthday cakes provided dessert. Mrs. Pauline Jones, Center Chaplain, said grace.

The afternoon musical program featured Randy Wolfe, a student at Circleville Junior High School, at the piano. He played a half-hour of selections ranging from jazz to classical and modern and concluded his performance with his own arrangement of "Alley Cat." Everyone spontaneously joined in hand clapping to this tune.

Other music enjoyed by the listeners included two duets sung by Viola Hartrant and her sister, Pauline Pearce, accompanied at the piano by their mother, Mrs. May Rhymer. The Kitchen Band then played several humorous numbers and the program concluded with group singing of "How Great Thou Art."

John Miranda, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Twila Lorentz announced the next scheduled trip will be on May 9 to the Neil Armstrong Space Museum in Wapakoneta. Reservations will be open at the April 25 all-day meeting. She also announced the Circleville Kiwanis Club had given the Center $500 for operational costs, making a total of $1000 the club has given the Center during the fiscal year. Members expressed their appreciation for the gift to Bill Smith of Kiwanis.

It was voted to transfer $500 from the activities fund to complete money needed for the year ending March 31. An application for the third year funding for the Center has been submitted to the Ohio Commission on Aging. The rate this year will be on a 50-50 basis with 50 per cent of the budget provided by the Federal Government under Title III of Older American's Act and the other 50 per cent raised locally. Mrs. Lorentz thanked all of the members for their support throughout the year.

The first money making project of the new year will be a garage sale on April 20 at the Center, including crafts, baked goods, homemade noodles, sandwiches and beverages. The sale hours are from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Items may be brought to the Center any time. The sale will coincide with the Spring Convention of Ohio Campers Assn. held at Pickaway County Fairgrounds the weekend after Easter.

A request for old sheet music, especially one that could be used by the Kitchen Band, was made.

Mr. Miranda has completed two years as president of the group, and he and his wife, Ruth, were given a standing ovation for their work. Election of new officers will take place at the April meeting.

Others with March birthdays but not present were: Opal Leist, Dorothy Gregory, Mary Valentine, Nellie Swackhammer, Charles Kirkpatrick, Richard Justus, Mary Minor, Bart Deming, Marguerite Stevinson, Mazie Wilkins, Ethel McDonald, Mary Leshner, Cora Neff, Wendell Turner, Wayne Hines, Dorothy Haynes, Dolly Grubb and Marvina Dudson.

It was announced that Mrs. Ruby Wallon who was injured in a fall recently, is now at home. Mrs. Daisy Price who had undergone eye surgery was present at the meeting, as was the group's oldest member, fondly called "Aunt Minnie" Heise. She was 103 last September 29 and is now a resident at the Brown Memorial Nursing Home.

Members were all invited to the Ashville group meeting, Thursday, April 11, in the Shelter House in Ashville Community Park. Quite a number of the Ashville group were present at this meeting.

A special guest for the day was Miss Kitty Meade, formerly of Circleville and one of the original members of the Pickaway Social Club. Kitty now lives in Lancaster and is active in the Fairfield county Senior Citizens group.

41st Anniversary Observed By Guild

Members of Union Guild met Thursday at The Valley House in Chillicothe, to observe the 41st anniversary of its foundings.

A smorgasboard dinner was enjoyed at noon. Mrs. Helen Newlon, Mrs. Clyde Herron and Mrs. Austin Hoover made the table favors in keeping with the Easter season. Mrs. Herron was in charge of the games that were played during the afternoon.

The following members attended: Mrs. Clyde Herron, Mrs. Austin Hoover, Mrs. Marvne Dudson, Mrs. Gail Linton, Mrs. Orin Bircher, Miss Mary Shortridge, Mrs. Lawrence Krimmel, Mrs. Lucille Terry, Mrs. Magdalene Fee.

Mrs. Ethel Marshall, Mrs. Ida Mitchell, Mrs. Fred Dean, Mrs. Edna Immell, Mrs. Ruby Goodman, Mrs. Helen Newlon, Mrs. Pauline Schooley, Mrs. Mary Barr, Mrs. Marjorie Rhinehart and Mrs. Grace Streitenberger. Guests were; Mrs. Norman Schooley, Mrs. William Metzger and Mrs. Helen Smith.

The April meeting of the guild will be in the home of Mrs. Marjorie Rhinehart, South Bloomfield. Mrs. Mary Barr will be the assisting hostess.

Garden Club To Meet In Newlon Home

Mrs. Albert Newlon, Route 3, will entertain Solaqua Garden Club in her home 1:30 p.m. Friday. Mrs. C. W. Hedges will be co-hostess.

Pythian Sisters Complete Plans For Inspection

Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple 516 completed plans for Inspection of April 4 at its Thursday evening meeting in the K of P lodge hall.

Mrs. Opal Vance, most excellent chief, presided over the business session attended by 29 members. Staff members were invited to assist with Stoutsville Inspection 8 p.m., May 22, at the K of P hall in Stoutsville.

District Past Chiefs Club has planned a pot-luck dinner at Amanda K of P lodge hall in Amanda.

Plans have been completed for a bake sale on April 6, beginning 8:30 a.m. in the lobby of the K of P Temple on N. Court St.

Beginning April 1, the meeting time will be changed from 7:30 to 8 p.m. at the K of P lodge hall. Gift boxes brought by Norma Toland were won by Leona Crites and Geneva Woodward.

Named on the refreshment committee for the Inspection are Helen Wilkins, chairman; Marie Wilkinson, Midora Cupp, Joyce Eveland and Virginia Baker.

CARE Director Jr. Womens Club Guest Speaker

Judith Johnson, Ohio-Kentucky regional director for CARE, the international aid and development organization, will speak on "What's Happening In Haiti" at the April 4th meeting of the Circleville Junior Women's Club which will be held 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Melvin Ehrlich, 365 Juhl Road.

Mrs. Johnson has traveled widely in her work with CARE and recently spent two weeks reviewing CARE projects in the Dominican Republic and Haiti. The Circleville Junior Women's Club supports CARE projects through the International Affairs Department of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs of which they are a member.

Proceeds from the May bake sale will be used to fund new CARE projects among the underdeveloped countries of Africa through the "Challenge Of Change" program. For every dollar the club donates, CARE will send $6.42 worth of aid overseas thru their partnership programs with host countries.

Red Writer Claims Press Made Error

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Alexander Solzhenitsyn says that American newspaper commentators mistakenly interpreted his "Letter to the Soviet Leaders" as a call for nationalism.

The exiled Soviet writer, in an interview Sunday, said mutual understanding between the Soviet and American peoples "is particularly essential and is very difficult to establish from afar, using the superficial and often insufficiently thought-out judgments of the daily press."

"My 'Letter to the Soviet Leaders' was, even before its publication in the United States, subjected in the press, beginning with The New York Times, to primitive and even mistaken interpretations in contradiction to its real meaning. My program set down in this letter is a deduction from that general belief that nations and people can attain their supreme spiritual results only at the price of voluntary self-limitation in the outside world, concentrating exclusively on their internal development.

"For this reason, I suggested that my country should unilaterally renounce all conquests abroad and violence against all nations near and far, renounce all world pretensions and all kinds of international rivalry, in particular ... the arms race.

"I suggested that all this should be done on a scale far exceeding that which they dream of achieving by nuclear 'detente' and such a program was interpreted by American newspaper commentators as nationalism, that is the ideology of the warlike expansion of one's nation. The very idea of following the most recent technological recommendation of the Club of Rome was characterized as 'utopianism' and 'a call for return to the past.' In this way, the press is capable of introducing incomprehension between distant parts of the planet rather than internal understanding."

The Club of Rome is an international

Sohio Rips Metzenbaum

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The president of The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) charged that statements made by Sen. Howard Metzenbaum about the company's financial standings are reckless and false.

"His latest blast falsely charges self dealing by Sohio and BP Oil, but acknowledges that he doesn't have all the facts," Sohio's president Alton W. Whitehouse said in a news release Friday. BP is a major stockholder of Sohio.

"The facts of the matter are plain," said Whitehouse. "Sohio is a crude-short company and its crude oil supply in recent months has been tight. It has been buying oil where it could around the world at going market prices."

Sohio said it purchased oil from BP in January for $11.66 per barrel and that oil from other sources, excluding Canada, cost Sohio $15.18 per barrel.

Metzenbaum said that Sohio's reported $57 million increase in profits was actually $200 million and that the company concealed that fact by a special accounting technique.

Fight Public Aid To Private Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The traditional Catholic parochial school will survive financially without public aid because the church is "property-rich," but it needs broader support from its own members.

That is the philosophy expressed by Dr. G. Weir Hartman, executive director of the Ohio Free Schools Association.

The OFSA held a day-long conference Saturday to build its support of "public education, religious freedom and separation of church and state."

Dr. Hartman, a Columbus Methodist minister, said the organization views "with great alarm" the diversion of public funds away from public schools into private education.

It has filed an amicus curiae (friend of the court) brief in the American Civil Liberties Union federal court case against the Ohio legislature. The ACLU is trying to halt an $81.4 million distribution of state money for special services to private schools.

"We want to protect public education and prevent anything that hurts it," Dr. Hartman explained during an interview.

He claimed that two-thirds of Catholic parents now enroll their children in public schools to take advantage of available services out of reach of the parochial schools.

Dr. Hartman said the successful private schools are those which do not accept public money and public limitations.

He said the OFSA would advocate the closing of private schools because a single system would unite communities. He disclaimed the theory that a shutdown of parochial schools would flood public schools systems.

"Public funding for private education violates the basic principle of the first amendment," Dr. Hartman said. "It co-mingles religion and political power."

Donald Traxler, president of the Ohio Education Association, told the conference the OEA regards public aid to private schools as a step toward the destruction of public education.

"It (aid) is a step toward racial, social and economic isolation of children," Traxler said.

Sohio Agrees Allocations Are Legal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and Sohio have settled a disagreement over the fuel allocation program, but it came too late to help the National Lubricating Co. of Brilliant.

Nevertheless, the settlement may have an impact on the oil companies if fuel shortages persist among distributors and suppliers.

The commission and Sohio were at odds after the state ordered the oil company to sell 60,000 gallons of gasoline to National early in March.

National distributes Texaco gasoline to 13 stations in the Steubenville area. But an official of National said Texaco had exhausted its set aside allocation by the first week of March and the Brilliant company needed gasoline.

Sohio had argued that the commission did not have the authority to force them to sell to competitors in distress.

The commission contended that Federal Energy Office regulations permitted the state to order distributions as it deemed necessary to meet current demands.

Over the weekend, John Minnis, assistant coordinator for the PUCO's allocation program, said Sohio officials "agreed that we have the right to transfer gasoline between competing companies."

However, Minnis said Sohio was granted some concessions. He said competitors must pay cash to Sohio, Sohio dealers will be denied supplies to meet the needs of competitors and gasoline will be transferred in trucks not identified with the competitor.

Despite the agreement, National will not need its 60,000 gallons, at least for the time being.

Minnis said the delivery could not be made before today, the first of the month, when National will begin receiving its April allocation from Texaco.

On the sick list last week were Shirley, Gary, and Debbie Wardell. All had a round of the flu, and are feeling better now; Archie Sweet - a bout with the virus; Chester Dawson, underwent back surgery on March 8, in Doctor's hospital, is now home convalescing, he would love to hear from his friends.

Sorry to report that Mrs. Minnie Ridgeway was rushed to the hospital on Wednesday night with pneumonia. There's nothing definite on her condition at this writing, but we all hope she will soon be on the road to recovery.

Several from here attended the Vaudvilleties opening, "Hooray for Hollywood", on opening night, Wednesday at the Vets Memorial.

Saltcreek Grange To Host Youth Group

The Saltcreek Valley Grange will host the Pickaway County Grange Youth Group at the regular meeting 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Each year the youth group visits all subordinate granges in the area to present a program. This project is one of the many that are part of the national grange youth program.

Director of the program is Karen Ewing who serves as the recreation leader for the youth group in the county.

Following the meeting and the program, the host grange will provide refreshments of salad and sandwiches for the social period.

Ohio's Weekend Accident Toll 9

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nine persons, five of them pedestrians, were killed in traffic accidents over the weekend, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

A three-year-old Columbus boy was killed as he darted across a Lawrence County road Saturday, and a 93-year-old Coshocton man died the same day when struck at a Coshocton intersection. A Cleveland woman died crossing a street Sunday.

According to the patrol, drivers fled after two other pedestrians were killed — a 77-year-old Napoleon man early Saturday and a hitchhiker in Mansfield Friday night.

One man died when his car collided with a train Saturday in Miami County.

There were no multiple-death accidents over the weekend.

The dead:

SUNDAY
CLEVELAND — Virginia Hutchinson, 24, of Cleveland, hit as she crossed a Cleveland street.

LORAIN — Donald Bennett, 18, of Lorain, in a three-car accident on Quarry Road in Lorain County.

SATURDAY
IRONTON — Britton Dale Dean, 3, of Columbus, hit as he darted across a county road in Lawrence County.

COSHOCTON — Charles M. Kreis,

93, of Coshocton, struck while crossing a street at a Coshocton intersection. PIQUA — William Conover, 86, when his car collided with a train south of Piqua in Miami County.

CINCINNATI — Douglas L. Nields, 28, of suburban Cleves, when his car collided head-on with a tractor-trailer rig on Ohio 128 near Miamitown.

MARTINS FERRY — Joseph A. Brodzik Jr., 28, of Martins Ferry, in a one-car crash on U. S. 40 just east of Ohio 214 in Belmont County.

NAPOLEON — James Hoffman, 77, of Napoleon, when struck on Ohio 108 five miles south of Napoleon in Henry County.

FRIDAY NIGHT
MANSFIELD — Alvin J. Straka, 30, of Crestline, while hitchhiking along U. S. 30 in Mansfield.

Carbon Monoxide Blamed For Deaths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police said that Marvin Blasley, 24, and his 21-year-old wife, Shelia, whose bodies were found Sunday evening in their Columbus home, apparently died Saturday night of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Authorities blamed a faulty space heater.

Cooperation Appeal Made By Firemen

The Laurelville Fire Department makes an appeal for cooperation from residents served for advance notice of controlled burning. Perry, Saltcreek and Benton Townships are furnished fire protection from the department and are asked to cooperate with the firemen in this way.

Advance notice of controlled burning will have a two-fold advantage. First, if firemen are aware of the burning, they will not become alarmed when the fire is reported. Secondly, advance notice of the location will aid faster service if the fire should get out of control.

Two calls have already been received this spring from persons reporting a grass fire. Both calls were accompanied with poor directions. Poor directions only lead to greater inefficiency on the part of the fire department. If firemen have to spend extra time finding the location of the fire, there is greater difficulty in getting it under control.

Jim Shaw, fire chief for the Laurelville Fire Department, advises extra precaution be taken when burning. Extra precaution will help to keep the burning under control. The fire chief warns, if there is any doubt of the fire getting out of control, the department should be notified immediately.

Youth Plan Rap Session

A youth Rap Session is scheduled 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, at the home of Bob Hively, 224 Sherwood Drive.

The group invites city and county youth to attend the informal talk period and encourages those youth who attended the movie "Time To Run".

Good Natured Warriors

By JIM BISHOP

The day of St. Patrick has come and gone, and all I could think of was my old man. Big John was born in America, but in some ways he was more Irish than the Irish. He made the originals look like fakes.

A true Irishman, you see, has exaggerated emotions. They include sentiment, contempt, poetry, fear, religion, love and superstition. By nature, an Irishman squelches them and sits tightly on the lid of his imaginings.

His greatest fear—and bear in mind, I am generalizing—is the fire of hell, and then, to a slightly lesser degree, admitting that there is something he doesn't know.

This was my old man. Once I said to him, "The greatest words ever written were, 'Love Ye One Another.'" He smiled and shook his head. "You," he said, "are beginning to show small signs of intelligence."

"It's such a pity," I said, "that they were written a thousand years before the Irish learned to read." The smile froze. "If I get up out of this chair," he said, "I will break your face."

The French Are Wrong

He studied many subjects until he was 85. Pronunciation was not one of them. He said a channel swimmer had left "Cape Grizz-Nezz." "It's pronounced 'Gree-nay,'" I said. "Grizz-Nezz," he said. "Gree-nay is the way the French pronounce it." His teeth ground. "I can't help it," he said, "if the French can't speak English."

Big John loved the Irish and admired his heritage from Wexford and Cork. His grandfather, John Murphy, had been a color sergeant in the British army in the Crimean War: "God forgive him."

When John Michael Bishop became a police lieutenant, he collected anecdotes from those he called "greenhorns" on the force. He took an Irish cop into the Cafe Savarin one day for lunch. There was a big, cut-glass bowl full of grapefruit. The policeman nudged my father. "Look at the size of them oranges," he said. "I bet it wouldn't take many of them to make a dozen."

For years he corresponded with a cousin Jim in Lower Scooby, Wexford. Suddenly he stopped. I asked why. "The s.o.b. is asking for money," he snapped. Life in an Irish family, he said, was an emotional scenic railway. "They're either laughing uproariously or sobbing."

His mother lost three children to diphtheria in Christmas week 1898. She wanted no tears. The survivors were ordered to get on their knees and mumble, "Thy will be done."

When she was 80, she was small and sharp, a woman with slanted upper lids and skin like cracked custard. The McCarthy grandchildren — Joe, Vince, Veronica, Francis and the rest — taught her how to play poker for pennies.

They fought her to the death for a pot. Whenever she had a good hand, her fingers and lower lip began to tremble. Around the dining room table, everyone took a look, nodded and dropped out. She'd rake in the skinny pot, get up and walk through the house slamming doors.

Wiskey isn't the curse of the Irish. It's their salvation. Rye cured everything from pneumonia to leprosy. It saved lives before the Irish knew the nature of an antibiotic.

My father was neither a sot nor an alcoholic. He drank booze in self-defense. He was getting a haircut one day, when a buddy in the next chair died under a steaming towel. For the rest of his life, Big John never went to a barbershop without hitting a saloon first.

When he went on the wagon, he wanted the world to sit up behind the horses. When anyone died, he considered it improper (1) to have the wake in a funeral parlor instead of the living room; (2) not to have whiskey and a big ham in the kitchen.

He believed in "the little people" and the "fairies" of Ireland. Why? "Because my father told me he saw them, that's why." He envisioned the

The Green Tin Box

He was 85, snowy and tottering, when he crooked his finger and said, "Commere." I went to his side. He pointed to a couch. "See that green tin box?" he said. I nodded.

"When I go," he said, "you will find $600 in cash in it. Now bear this in mind. I want you to use three hundred for masses for the repose of my soul. God knows I'm gonna need it."

"And the other three hundred?" I said. He smiled. "Whoever comes to pay their last respects, buy them a good dinner and a big drink. Tell 'em it's on me. If they're old friends, they'll understand."

I should have been thinking of St. Patrick. My father, who never saw Ireland was a lot more Gaelic. And, as my mother would say, far less saintly . . .

No Change In Bedsheet Ballots

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Both political parties want to do something about the so-called bedsheet election ballots in Ohio, but no change is expected this year.

Democrats will wait to see what comes out of their special national mini-convention at Kansas City next December—first such conclave for a major party in the middle of a presidential term.

Delegate selection to the regular national convention is a prime topic for the Kansas City meeting. Selections in Ohio under present law are the main reason ballots look like bedsheets in primary eyars.

The thrust of the national effort, however, is a state-bystate system of choosing delegates to give the party more equal representation.

Two alternate approaches to the problem are being discussed. The Ohio Constitutional Revision Commission is nearing completion of a recommendation that would place the method of selecting delegates in the hands of the legislature.

Delegate selections now are left up to the parties themselves. In recent years and, particularly, in 1972, with the use of the so-called McGovern guidelines, Democrats found themselves in many states in an outright war with each other. Ohio was no exception.

A Senate-approved resolution pending in the House and carrying the approval of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown would spell out in the constitution a new method that would get away from the lengthy ballot.

Candidates for a national convention would not have their names listed on the ballot. Instead, they would pledge themselves to a presidential candidate prior to the election. The names of the presidential contenders would be on the ballot. Winners would have ready-made slates.

A vote for the presidential candidate would also be a vote for each delegate or alternate delegate candidate who declared beforehand that the presidential contender was the candidate of his or her choice.

Conserve
Two Vital Resources...
Water and Natural Gas...
In Your Own Home.

How deep is your bath?
How long is your shower? You'll save a lot of hot water by reducing the depth of your bath and the time of your shower. And you'll get just as clean.

When shaving, partially fill the basin with hot water, rather than let hot water go down the drain.

Load'em up.
Automatic appliances, like your dishwasher and washer, use lots of hot water. Partial loads waste water and gas.

Need boiling water?
Start with water from your hot water faucet. Part of the heating is already done. You'll save time. But cover your pan with a lid and do the job faster with less gas.

Stop that drip.
A leak of one drop per second adds up to 650 gallons a year. When it's a hot water faucet, you're wasting water and gas.

New Appliances.
Replacing your old gas water heater with a more efficient new one will also save gas. And you can replace with confidence, because if you now have gas in your home, you will continue to be supplied.

A maintenance tip.
Drain a bucket of water from the faucet at the base of your water heater once a month. This prevents build-up of mineral deposits that cause your heater to use more gas. It will extend the life of your water heater, too.

And by saving gas and water, you'll also save another resource... money.

COLUMBIAGAS

Many Owners Training At Local Fairgrounds

ON THE TRACK—Bob Callihan Sr. is training two horses with his son Bob Jr. at Pickaway County Fairgrounds. There are nearly 70 head of harness horses stabled at the local track this spring.

AFTER A WORKOUT—Bryan Weaver finishes unharnessing one of his horses following a brisk early morning workout at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. The young horseman has three trotters and a pacer in his stable.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the last of a series of articles about horsemen training at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds half mile track.

In addition to the horsemen whose profession is training and racing harness horses, there are a number of owners with just one or two head who train their own as a hobby.

The Callihans, Bob Sr. and Bob Jr., are training two horses. Plucky Callis owned by Bob Jr. and Marietta Callihan.

A mare with a mark of 2:11, she is by Plucky Boy, and her dam is Chaldale Betty.

Chita B is owned by Bob Sr. and Jim Connolly. Her sire is Chita Star and her dam Chaldale Betty.

Chuck Malone is training Burt's Filly, a 5-year-old pacer he owns with Marvin Young.

Ed Strawser is training Timothy T. S., his own 2-year-old trotter.

Wilson Green has Ethel's Time, a 2-year-old filly and Ima's Best, a 4-year-old gelding, both of which he owns.

Robert Radabaugh is training The Gay Saint, a 5-year-old gelding.

Jim Zimmerman is training Paula's Taffy, a 5-year-old pacer by Pink Taffy. He also owns Miss Beauty Queen, a 6-year-old pacer by Lang Hanover.

Clyde Kohn is training Johnny Angel, a promising 2-year-old trotter by Big John and Tualiga Blue, a 5-year-old pacer by Blue Steel.

Top Dragster, 2 Mechanics Are Killed

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

Dave Anderson, a race driver for 21 years, wanted a shot at Gary Gabelich's world land speed record. He'll never get it.

Anderson, 43, died Saturday when his rocket-propelled dragster crashed at Charlotte, N.C. Two other persons were killed in the accident.

Carlos Reutemann, a broad-shouldered comparative newcomer from Argentina, had forecast last year that 1974 would be his big year on the international Formula I Grand Prix circuit.

Saturday, Reutemann won the South African Grand Prix. Only 10 days ago, American star Peter Revson had met his death in a crash while testing for the race.

Anderson, who labeled himself "the world's fastest shoe" and called his hydrogen peroxide dragster the "Pollution Packer," had set 13 international speed records at Bonneville, Utah, last September.

He had planned to go back later this year with a much stronger rocket car and shoot for Gabelich's existing mark of 622 miles an hour.

But in an exhibition run down the one-eighth mile strip at Charlotte, Anderson's slow down drag chute failed to open after a 248 m.p.h. run.

Top Grid Stars Join WFL

TORONTO (AP) — Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick — gears in the Miami Dolphins' grind-it-out offense — have jumped for an estimated $3.5 million to the Toronto Northmen of the World Football League, giving the fledgling league almost instant respectability.

"We're guaranteed this money," said Kiick after the signings, effective for the 1975 season and for three years, were disclosed Sunday. "If we get hurt, if we die, if the WFL doesn't get off the ground, we still get it."

The trio — Warfield is a receiver, the other two are running backs — will play out their 1974 options with the team which they helped win the last two National Football League championships.

Miami Coach Don Shula, however, said he might not even play the three this coming season. But Csonka discounted any reprisal by Shula, saying, "He wants to win the Super Bowl again and so do we."

Each earned about $60,000 last season as Dolphins, plus the extra money — $15,000 each in the Super Bowl — for playoff victories.

No breakdown on how the $3.5 million would be divided among the three was disclosed. Presumably, Csonka would get the most money.

Kiick said the other 11 teams in the WFL, which will begin play in July, contributed $1 million to the contracts, highest-priced deals ever in pro football history.

"I am disappointed, shocked, sick, whatever," a bitter Joe Robbie, managing general partner of the Dolphins, said in Miami Sunday night after the jump was announced in Toronto. "I feel (player agent) Ed Keating took three of our players to Canada who were in a frame of mind to come back and listen when they left."

But Robbie said the Dolphins weren't concerned about any legal action "at this point."

Csonka, who rushed for more than 1,000 yards the past three seasons, said his financial future was a primary consideration in the move.

"In this case, it is one of the considerations, of course," the bull-

necked fullback said, "but there are others.... the Toronto club offered us more than we anticipated — even more than we had asked for in the exploratory package."

Robbie said he had asked Keating to return with the players from Toronto, where negotiating sessions took place, adding that the "$3 million wouldn't burn in two days." But, Robbie said Keating responded with a "take it or leave it" attitude and the Dolphin official refused to negotiate by phone.

"Everyone knows how I feel about them," Shula said. "They are great players. We were in a unique situation of being able to go after our third Super Bowl in a row next season. Our thought was to do everything possible to get everyone back."

LE Track Team Set To Open Season

New track coach Asa Bradbury has 21 members hard at work as the Logan Elm Braves prepare for their season opener Saturday at the Fairfield Union Invitational.

It will be a senior dominated squad with Brad Luckhart, Scott Bower, Mark Hawks, Mark Fouch, Steve Sargent, Dan Ramey, Keith Weaver and Dale Frazier providing the leadership.

Juniors on the squad are: Phil Manson, Brian Barr, Wess King, Roy Duffey, Dave Hulse and Matt Martin.

Lonnie Maxson, Doug Hildenbrand and Randy McKay are sophomore members while freshmen on the team are John Eans, Randy Watkins, Jim Butler and Mike Patrick.

"We expect to have overall strength in the field events, middle distances and some sprints but must improve in the distances," coach Bradbury commented.

"Sargent, Luckhart and Hawks should provide the leadership we need, Duffey gives us a top 220 man, Luckhart will be strong in the pole vault, Eans is a good sprinter and King provides strength for us in the half-

Whalers Top Nordiques In WHA, 3-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The regular season has ended for the Quebec Nordiques, but the pressure will continue for another week.

Quebec dropped the final game of its World Hockey Association schedule, 3-2 in overtime, to the New England Whalers Sunday afternoon and now must wait until the Chicago Cougars play their remaining two games to see if they've made the playoffs.

The Nordiques have 80 points and hold fourth place in the East Division, while fifth-place Chicago needs two points in its final games to displace Quebec and face New England in World Trophy first-round action.

Elsewhere in the WHA Sunday, the Edmonton Oilers defeated the Cougars 4-1; the Cleveland Crusaders trimmed the Jersey Knights 4-2; the Toronto Toros edged the Los Angeles Sharks 5-4; the Minnesota Fighting Saints topped the Houston Aeros 5-2, and the Winnipeg Jets dropped the Vancouver Blazers 4-3 in overtime.

Tom Webster scored with 2:40 remaining in the overtime to win the game for the Whalers. Mike Parizeau had tied it for Quebec with less than six minutes left in regulation play.

Opperman Wins

ROSSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Jan Opperman of Beaver Crossing, Neb., jumped off to the lead and held it all but four laps Sunday to take the second race of the United States Auto Club circuit at Eldora Speedway.

His victory put him in first place in USAC standings with an 81. He finished second last week in the season opener at Reading, Pa.

Wayne Zahn Wins Ebonite Tournament

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Wayne Zahn, who last week won his first Professional Bowlers Association crown in five years, takes his $10,000 earnings from the Ebonite Open Bowling Tournament to Akron this week for the final leg of the winter tour.

Zahn, a 33-year-old from Tempe, Ariz., won the $80,000 tournament here Saturday by a 199-170 score over Norm Meyers, St. Louis, Mo.

He joins other tournament titleholders and past winners at this week's $125,000 Firestone Tournament of Champions at Akron, the last leg of this season's tour.

Meyers, who took home $6,000, was disappointed with his runnerup position. It was the third time in the past four years that he placed No. 2 at Imperial Lanes here.

His only tournament victory on the tour was 11 years ago when he was 29 years old.

Last year and in 1971, Meyers lost the Ebonite crown to Dick Weber, his brother-in-law. Weber was a finalist in this year's tourney, but he later lost to Zahn in the five-man finale.

The last match was close during the opening frames, with neither bowler posting a double.

Sabres Whip Minnesota In NHL, 6-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Buffalo Sabres, officially eliminated from the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs Saturday, are reduced to pursuing individual goals.

Winger Rick Martin, for example, has his eye set on the magic 50-goal mark and he doesn't have far to go.

Martin netted his 48th of the season Sunday night as the Sabres whipped the Minnesota North Stars 6-1, ending the Stars' hopes for a playoff berth.

Elsewhere in the NHL, Boston whipped Detroit 6-1; Toronto tied the New York Rangers 3-3; Pittsburgh beat Atlanta 4-2; St. Louis skated to a 2-2 tie with Chicago; and Vancouver routed California 7-0.

Martin scored 37 goals last season and is most anxious to hit 50 this time around. He has three games left to do it.

"I'll play 150 minutes a game if I have to to get it," he said.

The Sabres got first-period goals from Jerry Korab, Gil Perreault and Brian Spencer, chasing Gump Worsley out of the Minnesota net, and were in control the rest of the way. Craig Ramsay connected in the second period for the Sabres, and Don Luce and Martin added third-period scores.

Jude Drouin scored for Minnesota.

Teays Valley Sets Sports Fete Tonight

Teays Valley will hold its Winter Sports Banquet 6:30 p.m. tonight in the high school cafeteria.

The varsity, reserve and freshman basketball teams, the wrestling team and cheerleaders will be honored at the event.

It will be a carry in dinner with rolls and beverages furnished by the Athletic Booster Club. Everyone must provide their own table service.

Lima Team Leads Handicap Bowling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The bowling team of Grand Ave. Cafe of Lima took first place Sunday in the team-handicap division of the 70th Annual Ohio State Bowling Tournament in Columbus.

Grand Ave. raised its tally to 3,192 to take the lead. Five Aces of Pomeroy was second with 3,159.

In team actual, Reed Funeral Home held the lead with 3,112.

Your Horoscope Television Schedule

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR MONDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Be explicit but not short in voicing opinions. There is a tendency now to belittle the aspirations and ideas of others. Curb!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Mixed planetary influences. You may alternate between quick, aggressive moves and periods of slowing down, for no apparent reason. Aim at stabilization.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Don't be coerced into anything that seems at all inappropriate, but do listen to all sides of a reasonable discussion. A good day for making agreements, long-range plans.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Planetary influences now indicate progress, quicker advancement. Emphasize your special ability to tie things up adeptly with little fanfare. Avoid extremes, however.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): You may have some difficulty in trying to produce in large quantity, in developing efficient methods, and in getting along with associates. Reexamine and rectify; even reorganize if necessary.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Some changing situations. Do not be dismayed. Accept them with your inborn adaptability and perceptiveness.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Don't abandon a project just because someone else may not be enthusiastic about it, but listen to their ideas anyway. There COULD be some angles you have overlooked.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Dealings with others may have their ups and downs: YOU remain serene and tolerant. Where things seem to be in a slump, use your imagination to inject new vigor.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Curb a tendency to be overly critical now. Don't look for flaws in every matter that comes up. Emphasize tolerance and steadiness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Familiar matters favored rather than new enterprises. You may encounter tense feelings in some areas. Keep your balance and look at the bright side of things.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Put inferences, conceded

ADD TO HOROSCOPE jh
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Put inferences, conceded facts and other material together and scrutinize well;

then you will be surer when you make decisions and move ahead.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): This will be a day calling for good judgment. Do not let unexpected situations ruffle you and do not let yourself be pushed into erroneous paths by the prodding of others.

YOU BORN TODAY are extremely energetic and highly enthusiastic about anything you undertake, but sometimes drop projects before you have given them a chance to prove themselves. You can achieve the spectacular in some areas; are ingenious, spontaneous, artistic. You could make a great success as a business leader, promotion expert or financier. If drawn to the arts, as you well may be, you will be highly individualistic—especially in music, painting or the theater. You are an extremist in anything you do and people tend to follow your lead so... Care! Birthdate of: Wm. Harvey, physician, discoverer of blood circulation; Debbie Reynolds, actress.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — "QB VII," a made-for-television movie based on Leon Uris' best-selling novel of the same name, will be with us for quite a while on ABC — the network says 6½ hours in all — next April 29 and 30.

Although record-setting wasn't what producer Douglas Cramer had in mind, he says it's the longest made-for-TV film ever aired, exceeding even NBC's four-part "Blue Knight" miniseries. Cramer, 42, who struck some kind of blow for candor by saying the show actually runs five hours and 20 minutes without commercials, titles and station breaks, said ABC never set any time limit for the movie.

The simple reason it's as long as it is, he said, is because Barry Diller, an ABC executive who commissioned it, felt that "a great many books have been ruined by being compressed arbitrarily for two or three hours of screen time." And Diller wanted to right this wrong.

Since some miniseries have proved successful and TV audiences have shown they'll watch hit theatrical films even when these are aired over a two-night period, "why not buy books and do them (for TV) at whatever length they hold up?" Cramer said. He said Diller's instructions after "QB VII" was bought in April 1971 — the price was $250,000 — were simply: "Go write a script and let's see how long it takes to tell the story without truncating it."

The book concerns the lives of a novelist and a physician, the latter forced by the Nazis during World War II to perform illegal operations in concentration camps.

The novelist names the physician as a war criminal in a book; the doctor sues for libel; and their legal war ends at a trial in London.

Putting the story to film involved a 340-page script, 150 speaking parts, four months of shooting in the United States, Belgium, Israel and England and a total production cost of $2.5 million, Cramer said.

Although some made-for-TV movies have been released in theaters overseas, this video extravaganza won't be trimmed in length to go that route, Cramer said. It'll be sold only for television.

This, he added, "is because its potential in the television market is so sure-fire, judging from the reception it's had so far, is that it's guaranteed money in the bank."

Marry On

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Registrar Aureliu Milea of Bucharest's Sector I has married 43,000 couples — averaging six a day — from 1952 to 1973. Milea says he is just warming up and his goal is 100,000.

"Go write a script and let's see how long it takes to tell the story without truncating it."

A SURE WAY TO CUT FOOD COSTS

You're concerned about holding down your weekly food bills. Kroger shares your concern! But supermarkets have no control over the wholesale costs we must pay—and when those costs go up, they must eventually be reflected in retail prices.

There is a way you can cut your food bills right away . . . and without sacrificing quality or flavor. Food shopping experts across the nation recommend that you buy your supermarket's own brands. These offer quality equal to the nation's best-selling brands, yet are usually priced lower.

At Kroger, we offer several of our own fine brands. You'll see our own name, "Kroger," on most of them. Other high-quality Kroger brands include such familiar names as Country Club, Royal Viking, or Yubi. Strict specifications for these products call for quality equal to or better than the national brand most people buy.

And remember . . . every product sold at Kroger is Guaranteed Unconditionally. If you're not pleased, we'll replace it or give your money back. So why not try the Kroger Brands? You've nothing to lose and a lot to gain.
